FRENCH ARE VICTORIOUS IN TWO BATTLES; NINE MEN ARE RESCUED FROM DEATH TRAP

GAS FUMES IN U. S. SHIP COME NEAR TAKING TOLL

Heroic Efforts of Firefighters On Iris at Hanlon Shipyard Saves Men From Death; All Now Recovered From Effect

FIRE IN COIL OF ROPE IS CAUSE

Smudge Blaze in Big Alameda Plant Causes Excitement at Early Hour Today; Forge Coals Fall Into Hold of Ship

Fire in the forward peak hatch of the government ship Iris, being transformed into a training ship at the Hanlon shipbuilding yard, this forenoon at 10 o'clock, came near costing the lives of nine men. But for the heroic work of men on the ship who repeatedly went into the death-trap to bring out the unconscious forms of their comrades there would have been a number of fatalities.

The hatch filled with smoke, fumes and gas, and as the men went in carrying the fire hose to fight the fire they were immediately overcome. Instantly others went in to recover them, some whom were likewise overcome.

The men were rushed to the Receiving hospital, where Dr. Lee E. Smith of the staff and Nurse Ethel Ebling administered oxygen and succeeded in resuscitating all the victims. Their names are:

NAMES OF MEN WHO WERE OVERCOME

Con Lane, 2620 Harold street, in Dimond; R. A. Stitt, Twenty-fourth and Market streets; Delmas Lewis, 2043 East Fourteenth street; C. Williams, 609 Oak street; Captain Max Dohrman, engine company No. 4, Oakland fire department, 1438 Hopkins street; W. H. McGrath, assistant fire chief, Oakland fire department; N. Brindle and Ed Croft, ship workers. First Mate McAvoy of the Iris was slightly affected by the fumes but revived as soon as he reached the deck and refused to be taken to the Receiving hospital.

According to Superintendent D. C. Young of the shipyards, an oxyacetyline burner started the fire in a coil of rope, which did not break into flame, constituting a smudge that produced a dense volume of smoke. The men went down with the fire hose looking for the flame, and as fast as they reached the bottom of the hatch they would tumble over unconscious. That none of them lost their lives is due to good luck and the quick, heroic rescue work of their fellow workers and members of the fire department.

WAS IN MOST SERIOUS CONDITION

Con Lane was in the most serious condition of all the men taken to the hospital, but responded to the treatment. R. A. Stitt, although he went three times into the dense smoke, was able to stand when he reached the hospital, though shaking from head to foot and suffering a severe headache. Headache was the condition that lingered with the men after they had been revived. The workmen were all taken back to the yards.

A smudge fire in the hold of hull 151 at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation at 5 o'clock this morning caused considerable excitement but no damage. A heater boy, in moving his glowing forge without first covering or quenching the forge fire, spilled live coals which dropped into the hold of the vessel and caused a big smoke from ignited waste sacking.

London Cheers U.S. Regiment

Drive Huns From Apremont

LONDON, May 11.—A regiment of United States troops marched through the streets of London today and got a rousing reception.

Londoners en route to their work saw the Americans detraining, five trains of them, at the Waterloo station and cheered them lustily. The dough boys marched across Westminster bridge, past parliament buildings, up Birdcage walk, near Buckingham palace, to Wellington barracks, where they breakfasted.

British Tommies evinced great interest in the men. The Americans were smiling and intensely interested in everything. They carried their equipment sturdily and made an excellent showing.

Thousands banked the streets and parks along the route taken by the Americans in their parade through the heart of London and the hearts of Londoners.

The enthusiasm evinced everywhere surpassed even that of the thrilling days of 1914.

A stalwart American band headed the first battalion, a Scots Guard band the second and an Irish regiment band the third.

As they swung down picturesque Birdcage Walk, between the walls of cheering military and civilians, with fifes screaming and drums thundering, these Americans were reminiscent of "Kitchener's mob."

ARE CHEERED BY VETERANS OF WAR

When the American soldiers detrained they were cheered by veteran Tommie, Jocks, Maple Leafers, Anzacs and civilians.

The Americans came through the archway of the Horse Guards' parade into Whitehall to begin the march through the West End streets and thence to the embassy and Buckingham Palace. Members of the war cabinet, including Premier Lloyd George, Chancellor Bonar Law, Viscount Milner and J. Austen Chamberlain, came out on the balcony at the war office and watched the scene with interest.

The premier, hands in pockets, looked down intently until the last American was out of sight. When the American flag was carried past, Lloyd George led in the cheers, which were taken up by other members of the war cabinet and by the people in the streets.

Shortly before the troops swung into view before the palace, King George and Queen Mary walked from the palace to the street before the front gate, where they met Major General Biddle of the American army. The king carefully observed the men as they passed in review and afterward congratulated the general on their appearance. He then inspected the guard, while the queen conversed with General Biddle.

BAKER ANNOUNCEMENT ADDS TO HEARTINESS

Secretary Baker's announcement that 500,000 American troops are in France adds to the heartiness with which American soldiers, marching before King George today, are greeted, the London press declares.

"This represents a really great achievement," the Mail said, regarding Baker's statement. "America has had immense difficulties. While it has not overcome all, it is rapidly doing this."

"There need be no half-hearted enthusiasm about the fruits of the American alliance," said the Express.

"Their work begins to tell," said the Times. "As their numbers grow, it will tell more and more."

The king addressed the following letter to the American soldiers in England:

"The British people welcome you on your way to take your stand beside the armies of the many nations now fighting the great battle for human freedom. The allies will gain new heart and spirit in your company.

"I wish I could shake the hand of each of you and bid you God-speed on your mission."

Copies of the letter will be handed to every American soldier in England.

U. S. ARTILLERY PREPARES RAID

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 11.—American artillery cooperated Friday with French guns in preparing the way for a French raid in the sector of the Apremont forest (on the Woevre plain.) The bombardment lasted two hours and was so intense that it was plainly heard in Toul, between sixteen and seventeen miles away.

Previous to the raid the Americans on the French right flank created an infantry diversion.

Our patrol entered the village of Apremont but found no Germans. It found, though, a barrage fire that the German batteries laid down.

Another American patrol cut the outer entanglements in front of the German trenches. The men were working on the heavy inner line, ten yards from the German trenches, when the Germans attacked with bombs, rifles and automatics. The Americans returned the fire for fifteen minutes when they heard German reinforcements running along the duckboards of their trenches. They then retired not having sustained any casualties.

During the preliminary bombardment the Germans countered, throwing numerous gas shells.

RUN INTO ATTACK BLOCKED.

A plan for an attack near Apremont village with flame throwers was knocked into a cocked hat by our guns, it was learned from German prisoners captured by the French in Apremont forest. Prisoners captured by the Americans northwest of Toul divulged that the Germans were bringing up flame throwers and placing them behind Apremont preparatory to an attack whereupon American artillery threw over every assortment of projectiles and fine results were reported.

The prisoners taken today confirmed the reports fully. Before our patrol made its unmolested tour of Apremont village this morning a private made a daylight jaunt into Apremont on his own hook. This private learned yesterday afternoon that there was to be something doing and expecting his lieutenant would reconnoiter, decided to beat him to it. He crawled across No Man's Land in daylight to the outskirts of Apremont and returned, reporting that there were only a few Germans there. When the patrol entered this morning the men crept in on both sides. One group heard two Germans approaching and tried to capture them. The Boches crept away. It is now believed that they formed a German outpost in the village and that they signalled for the German barrage which was put down when the Americans had reached a point only 100 yards from the German wires.

GERMAN RESERVE POSITION SHELLED.

WITH THE AMERICANS IN PICARDY, May 11.—American heavy artillery fiercely shelled the German reserve positions behind Parc de Grivesnes, Bois de L'Alval, Framicourt and other places fronting the American sector Thursday night.

New fires were observed in Montdidier and apparently an ammunition dump was burned in Cantigny.

A German patrol renewed the attempt to capture an American outpost, but was repulsed.

Cantigny is slightly more than three miles northeast of Montdidier. Grivesnes park is about a mile and a half north and slightly west of Cantigny. L'Alval Wood is a mile north of Cantigny. Framicourt is the same distance east of Cantigny.

"FRAME-UP" BORGLUM'S ANSWER TO MIX CHARGE

Sculptor Denies He Used His Friendship With President to Break Up Aircraft Personnel for His Own Gain

"LIES UNRESERVEDLY," IS HIS ASSERTION

Asks Who It Is So Powerful That It Is Dangerous for a Man to Ask Why No Planes Have Been Finished, in Use

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, today issued a new statement in which he branded a frameup the charges that he had been actuated by a desire financially to benefit himself through his investigation of the aircraft situation.

He counter-charged that the accusations made against him in the Senate were for the purpose of trying to discredit him in the eyes of the people.

"The charges of Mix and Mix's engineer are lies unreservedly," Borglum asserted. He said that 3000 airplans might have been in France in March to help stop the German drive if the Curtiss and Wright-Martin companies, who, he claims, were the only ones prepared to construct planes, had been permitted to go ahead on contracts. He says they have ben prevented from going ahead by "the opposition of a group in Ohio."

HIS STATEMENT IS ABSOLUTE DENIAL

An absolute denial is made in his statement, in every detail, that he was ever, secretly or otherwise, interested in the manufacture of airplanes or that he ever offered to use the confidence of the President for his personal advantage. He says that he first met Kenyon Mix through Mix's own charges against the aircraft board and "Colonel Deeds and Deeds' partners."

He repeated his charges of the mismanagement of aircraft production, called the charges against him a "colossal blunder," asked why a billion dollars in eleven months had produced no planes, and demanded:

"There has a graver question arisen: Who is it that is so powerful that makes it dangerous to the character and honor of men who shall dare to ask this question?"

The statement of Henry Harrison Suplee, consulting engineer, on file in the War Department, in which he corroborates sensational charges against Gutzon Borglum in the aircraft scandal, has been submitted to the Senate. It is in part as follows:

1.—That in all relations concerning the matter of promotion of a stock company for the manufacture of airplanes, during which I was present at several conferences with the projectors of this enterprise as consulting engineer, I desire to state that there was never any other understanding of this project but that Borglum was to be represented in the corporation by Harris, and that his sole asset in the transaction was to be, first, his personal friendship and association with President Wilson, whom he stated he could do anything he wanted with.

COULD OBTAIN TECHNICAL DETAILS

2.—As a further asset in this commercial venture, Borglum stated, and gave every one concerned in this matter to understand, that his position with the Aircraft Production Board and the aerial section of the signal corps, U. S. A., was such that he could obtain for their use plans and technical details which this company could use, and thus save considerably both in time and money in beginning operations.

3.—That one of the partners of this concern was to have been Hugo C. Gibson, who is connected with the British Ministry of War in the United States, offices at 120 Broadway, New York City, who proposed that certain patents which he controlled would be used by this country, and who also stated that he would be able to influence orders for airplanes in such a way that this company might receive the benefit therefrom.

4.—That I was given to understand by Borglum that the present personnel of the Aircraft Board was highly distasteful to him, and he was constantly criticizing their work. That he definitely proposed to change the personnel by virtue of his friendship with President Wilson, and that he asked me to suggest members for the new board which would be more friendly to him in his projects. That I avoided, giving him no definite answers along this line.

AUSTRIANS AIM FIERCE SMASH AT ITALIAN LINE

King Charles Reorganizing and Dividing Forces Into Two Armies in Preparation for Campaign On the Offensive

EACH UNIT UNDER SEPARATE COMMAND

Allied Military Chiefs Anticipate Possibility of One or Both of Austro-Hungarian Armies On the French Front

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, May 11.—News from the Italian front establishes that since the inspired announcement by the entire German-Austrian press regarding the impending offensive against the Italians, indications are daily apparent of a complete reorganization of the Austrian armies in that theater and of preparations for an offensive.

[illegible] campaign of raids and reconnoissances usually the prelude of a major attack. The Austrian high command apparently has divided its forces into two groups, the armies of each being commanded separately.

The effective divisions holding down the Italian front, which were allowed to decrease during the winter, have been reinforced. The number of companies has been increased and the artillery filled out.

From various sources it is learned that extensive efforts are in progress for the purpose of restoring the combative quality of the Austrian army.

While these preparations seemingly indicate an offensive against Italy, allied military officials recognize that this new military concentration could easily be thrown against the Franco-British front.

Reports from the Macedonian front state that after a winter of inactivity the French and British have begun activities, capturing several villages during the past month.

The Macedonian front is now held exclusively by Bulgarians. The German divisions formerly there have been transferred to the French front and into Asia Minor and Syria. Although German officers are still commanding the artillery and aviation units and the Bulgarians presumably are acting under the German imperial staff, they do not give any evidence of an offensive.

Advances Made in Picardy and Flanders as British Win in Raid at Merville

French troops advanced their lines yesterday evening east of Locre, on the Flanders front.

Heavy artillery fighting on the front below Amiens, in the region of Grivesnes and Mailly-Raineval, is reported.

The French gained ground on the southern side of the Picardy battle front, near Orvillers-Sorel, southeast of Montdidier.

SAYS AUSTRIA STILL SEEKS PEACE CHANCE

AMSTERDAM, May 11.—Baron Burian, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, declared in a speech that he hoped general peace negotiations would follow the Rumanian peace, according to a despatch from Budapest today.

"Emperor Karl has exploited every possibility of peace," the foreign minister said. "He still wishes that no opportunity shall be missed to conclude an honest and durable peace."

AMSTERDAM, May 11.—Berlin newspapers are now discussing the possibility of a government crisis as a result of the Catholic-Centrist effort to [illegible] the question of Chancellor Von Hertling's eastern policy. Mathias Erzberger is leading the new centrist opposition.

LONDON, May 11.—The situation in Ukrania has become so disturbing that the Germans have despatched large detachments of Bavarian cavalry from Flanders on the way to Ukrania, the correspondent at Amsterdam of the Exchange Telegraph Company reports.

LONDON, May 11.—"French troops advanced their line northeast of Locre yesterday evening and took several prisoners," Field Marshal Haig reported today.

"A few prisoners and a machine gun were taken in successful raids west of Merville.

"An attempted enemy raid east of Ypres was stopped by our fire."

BOMBARDMENT HEAVY IS REPORT FROM PARIS.

"Active artillery fighting" around Grivesnes (where Americans are in the line) and Mailly-Rameval (four miles northward) was reported by the French war office today. Various raids southeast of Montdidier and in the Woevre region netted some prisoners and material.

When Hindenburg renews his long deferred offensive on the western front it is not improbable that the Americans, who are fighting with the French on the Picardy battle line, will have to bear the brunt of heavy infantry thrusts.

All reports—both official and unofficial—dwell upon the fury of the cannonades along the Picardy fighting front.

General Pershing's seasoned veterans, who are fighting in Picardy, hold part of the line southeast of Amiens, occupying a sector that saw the German pressure during the early days of the drive when the Germans were trying to break through to Amiens by splitting the junction of the British and French armies between Montdidier and the Somme river.

AMERICANS AT TURN SOUTH OF MONTDIDIER.

The Americans are just southwest of Montdidier, at a point where the German salient bend is sharply eastward.

The Germans are holding strong reserve forces north and south of the Somme river and it is generally agreed by European military experts that the German high command will assault the allied lines defending Amiens as well as striking north of the Flanders front. There have been only minor operations on the Flanders front the past 24 hours but they terminated to the advantage of the allies.

The allies now have complete domination of the air in both battle zones. Since the German offensive opened on March 21 it is estimated that about 1000 German aircraft have been destroyed by allied airmen.

Explosion Razes Plant; 8 Lives Lost

WELLSBURG, Va., May 11.—An explosion destroyed the nitro-glycerine pant of the Louise Coal Company at Craft Creek today, according to telephone messages from that place.

Eight men employed in the building blown up are believed to have lost their lives, it was stated.

MOTHERS ASKED TO BE CHEERFUL WHEN WRITING

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11.—"Mothers, write more cheerful letters to your sons in uniform! They need messages of encouragement, not doleful forebodings, nor constant reminders of the awfulness of the 'great disaster to humanity.'"

This is the pleading message sent out—not by government officials, but by the boys themselves—boys that are over there!

"Don't help the Kaiser by hanging weights on the spirits of your boys who are fighting," writes Joseph Teter, of the —— regiment, United States Marines Corps, now in France.

The boys are all ready to go through with this thing, taking things as they come, but it is the folks back home who seem to be quitters. All of us are getting letters of this sort from our mothers—and I tell you, its mighty disheartening."

Take a tip from this lad's earnest plea, mothers, don't wail!

Crisis in Britain Creates Situation

PARIS, May 11.—"The crisis has cleared the atmosphere," Lord Milner, of the British war mission, is quoted as saying in an interview with the Echo de Paris correspondent in London regarding the recent situation engendered by General Maurice's charges against Premier Lloyd George.

"Such events are comparable to storms. They have a certain utility, especially at a time like the present, when the world is excessively tense. It ended happily and the British government may now pursue the only task that matters—winning the war—with renewed vigor.

"France may be assured that British efforts at the front, as well as behind the lines, will be coordinated to the utmost. The unshakable French confidence during the past few days has greatly comforted us."

Mutiny Inciter Brought in Irons

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The Southern America run liner San Juan arrived in port today, bringing one man under arrest and the crew under naval guard, as the result of a mutiny between Balboa and Corinto. Oscar Eval Olson, a sailor, who is said to have instituted the mutiny, was brought back in irons.

Olson left this city six weeks ago on the steamer Centralia. Threats which he is alleged to have made against the captain resulted in his being taken off the boat at Puntas Arenas, and sent to Balboa under the military police guard of the Panama zone. He was placed aboard the San Juan to be brought to this port, and is alleged to have incited the crew to mutiny over shore leave regulations.

King Rides in Auto Driven by a Woman

LONDON, May 11.—On his recent visit to the depots of Eastern command, King George rode in a high power automobile driven by Miss Stevens who is attached to the Army Service Corps and the first woman to drive the King's car. On stepping into the car King George appeared to take it quite as a matter of course that a woman should be at the wheel of his car.

"Boche" Is "Busher" When U. S. Boys Hit

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 11.—United States Marines now fighting in France report that the trench slang of the poilus and the Tommies is receiving the impress of the American idea.

"Boche," the French term of contempt for a German, is perfectly good French for "bonehead" and the Tommies adopted it.

But to the American ear it lacked punch. And the pronunciation was tricky. It did, however, suggest a term expressing the Americans' utmost contempt, emanating from the American national pastime.

So the Hun may still be "boche" to the French and British, but our marines despise them as "bushers."

Saigon Maru's Fate Still Proves Mystery

TOKYO, May 11.—The fate of the Japanese steamer Saigon Maru, of 5460 tons, owned by the Harada Steamship Company of Osaka, which was reported as missing for sometime, remains a mystery. She is believed to have been sunk by an enemy warship or submarine. The steamer was last heard from at Saigon in January last, when she sailed from that port on her way to Marseilles, being chartered by the French government.

Taxicab Bandit Is Product of Berlin

AMSTERDAM, May 11.—Berlin is dealing drastically with the taxicab bandit. A Berlin detective heard a taxicab driver refuse an ordinary journey unless he received a $5 tip. The detective jumped on the seat of the cab to arrest the driver, who threatened to run his machine into a lamp post if the detective did not get off. The latter thereupon drew his revolver and overpowered the driver, but not until they had come to grips and both tumbled into the street. The chauffeur was fined $500.

MOSCOW, May 11.—Count Mirbach, German ambassador to Russia, has issued an ultimatum to the Bolshevik government demanding that it stop arming troops and disband those already armed. He also declared the question of transporting German prisoners of war back home must be settled quickly.

The ambasador mentioned possible German occupation of Moscow as an alternative.

TEUTON AIR SERVICE IS SHATTERED

LONDON, May 11.—The German air service has been battered to pieces. Since March 21 it is estimated their losses total 700 pilots, observers and machine gunners, while 1000 machines have been destroyed.

This explains the cessation of the raids on London and Paris—the enemy being forced to withdraw night pilots for use in day flying and observations on the fighting front. The Germans also [illegible] long-distance bombing machines for bombing near the front because they have lost so many of the regulation small type.

It is not secret that the British aviation service saved the situation in the early crucial days of the driven when Von Hindenburg flung forty divisions against the British Fifth army, which had only fourteen divisions.

The German aviation service suffered tremendous losses trying to gain supremacy of the air, as low flying British machines attacked and broke up German communication and supply trains with machine gun fire and bombed newly constructed railway centers, thus delaying the German advance.

British, French and American aviators are bringing down enemy machines at the average rate of forty-five a day and anti-aircraft guns are gathering a big toll. Even the infantry has shot down a number of machines with rifle fire. Most of the hostile machines downed are two-seaters—combination fighting and observation craft—on which the Germans have specialized.

Many more German machines have been driven down out of control and have been observed to catapult, landing with a crash, although the occupants were evidently not hurt.

DENY ELECTION WAS 'IRREGULAR'

Friends of Mrs. Grace Willard of Los Angeles, chosen Thursday as head of the Woman's Relief Corps, at the thirty-fifth annual convention of the organization, deny emphatically that the election was "rushed" or that there were any "technical irregularities." The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt, of Berkeley, the retiring president. Mrs. Hoyt, who has acquired a record for fairness and justice during her incumbency, declares that the election was not "rushed." Under a decision of the department, the election is always held the second day of the convention, and this practice was followed Thursday. Regarding the vote of the Oroville, delegation, it is explained that when the roll was called there was no response from [illegible] left the hall. At the conclusion of the roll call the conductor arose and stated that the Oroville vote had been given to her to cast. The presiding officer ruled, in accordance with the laws of the organization, and after consulting with the department counselor of Oroville, Hattie B. Onyett, that the votes could not be legally counted.

The Oroville delegation, which would have cast four votes if present, is claimed by both the friends of Mrs. Willard and Mrs. French, and it is not believed that their vote would have changed the result. The leaders of the organization declare that the convention was one of the most harmonious ever held.

Davie to visit Oakland for a week in the near future and conduct a similar campaign here, in conjunction with local committees. The mayor today addressed the following invitation to Fisher:

"As mayor of the city of Oakland I take pleasure in inviting you to spend a week in Oakland to help arouse interest in the patriotic work to which your time is devoted.

"Oakland will appreciate very much the opportunity of having you with us for the purpose of organizing and thoroughly creating additional interest along the patriotic lines that our War Service League represents."

Fisher has left for the southern part of the state and will probably come to Oakland later.

Attackers Display High Courage

LONDON, May 11.—British aviators have photographed Ostend harbor, confirming that Friday morning's enterprise against the submarine base was entirely successful and that the fairway is now blocked.

The old cruiser Vindictive, which was sunk at the entrance to the harbor, was manned by fifty-two volunteers, including a lieutenant commander and four engine-room attendants who had taken part in the Zeebrugge attack.

The Germans scented trouble and opened fire with their shore batteries. Eleven 6 and 4-inch shells were thrown seaward when the British naval forces were still two and one-half miles off shore.

AEROPLANES IN BATTLE.

Meanwhile aeroplanes began to bombard Ostend and long range guns in Flanders were turned against the Ostend district.

When the sea fog rolled away the British sent out a smoke screen which completely hid the vessels.

The Germans kept up their gunfire, but the shells missed the monitors and motorboats.

The Vindictive, groped along the coast for half an hour seeking the bottle-necked harbor. Finally the Germans began to send up high-power star shells, revealing the pier heads nearby.

The bow of the cruiser was jammed against one pier while the stern swung across the channel, grounding aft.

Explosives were fired, sending the Vindictive to the bottom, a motorboat dashed alongside, taking off the officers and thirty-eight men. They were carried to Commodore Lynes' flagship, the Warwick. Another motorboat took off a lieutenant and two men who had been wounded.

A large number of the officers and men participating in the operation against the Zeebrugge mole, April 23, claimed the right to patricipate in the Ostend operations, says the Central News story of the raid, and were accepted. All the men on the Vindictive were volunteers from the Dover patrol.

An officer who was on a destroyer described the operations:

"Up to 1:45 o'clock we heard nothing of the enemy," he said. "Then he sent up star shells and flashed his flashlights. A heavy bombardment followed, beginning when we were about two and one-half miles from the shore.

"By the light of star shells and searchlights our smoke screen was located. Then a fog came on and prevented the airmen from continuing their work. After an hour the weather cleared and they resumed their operations.

"A heavy fire was turned on the Vindictive. When at last she found the entrance to the harbor she ran her stern into the pier and was abandoned.

BRAVERY IS DISPLAYED.

"The crews of the motor launches behaved in the most gallant manner, rushing in to shore utterly regardless of their safety, to see that no one was left behind. One launch brought off two officers and thirty-eight men from the Vindictive. Another which went alongside took off a lieutenant and two ratings who were wounded, while two other motor launches also detailed for rescue work kept close to the shore, their crews displaying the greatest pluck and determination.

"Our vessels effectively bombarded shore batteries. The work of the monitors in this respect was particularly fine. Altogether 200 shells fell within a few yards of two of the monitors, but neither was a hit made nor was a casualty caused. During the whole operation not one enemy craft was seen. At 2:30 o'clock, according to the program, the retirement was begun."

Commander Lynes, who conducted the blocking operation at Zeebrugge, was in command on the present occasion. He tells the following story:

"Weather conditions at the start were in every way suitable. There was a light northwest wind. The sea was favorable to small craft. There was a clear sky and the visibility was good.

ENEMY PUTS NO BLOCK IN WAY OF ATTACK.

"The outward passage was made without interference on the part of the enemy. The small craft were all despatched to their stations with destroyers in support. Before the arrival of the Vindictive, at 1:45 o'clock, the enemy wa sremarkably quiet, but just at this time the Germans began to open fire. Star shells showed that the smoke screens were progressing excellently.

"At about this time the sky, which hitherto had been almost unclouded, began to be partly obscured by low drifting clouds. In about ten minutes before the Vindictive was due at her destination a sea fog set in. This stopped our air attack. Indeed, for a time even the searchlights could not be seen. This state of things continued for almost an hour, when it cleared sufficiently for the air attacks to be re-commenced.

"It was a lurid scene when the Vindictive arrived at 2 o'clock, practically on program time. There was a thundering of guns on sea and land. The exploding of bombs from airplanes added to the din and there was an occasional cry of agony from some one mortally wounded. Searchlights criss-crossed above and the whole scene was illuminated with flashes and star shells. This was the picture for a full hour."

TO LEAVE MONDAY FOR WASHINGTON

Backed by the civic and commercial [illegible] interested in the move, Harrison S. Robinson, local attorney, will leave Monday for the East to make a fight for immediate construction of the proposed new bascule bridge over the estuary at Webster street. Robinson will confer directly with Director-General William G. McAdoo of the railroads of the United States on the matter, May 20 having been set as the date for such a hearing.

Robinson will take with him the facts amassed by the Chamber of Commerce to bear out the contention of the local communities that the present bridge is a serious menace to navigation, as recently decided by the War Department, and that the need of the new bridge is imperative.

Besides the Oakland chamber, Robinson will represent the following:

The Alameda Chamber of Commerce, the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, the Alameda City Council, the Manufacturers' Committee, the Downtown Association, the Merchants' Exchange, the California Automobile Trade Association, the Retail Grocers and Merchants' Association of Alameda county, the Employers' Association of Alameda and Contra Costa counties, the Oakland Real Estate Board and the Draymen's Association of Alameda county.

"KAISER HOCHER" LAWYER WANTS NAME CHANGED

In a petition for change of name filed today in the office of County Clerk George E. Gross, Attorney James J. Van Hovenberg, who defended the ten men convicted of toasting the kaiser at their trial before Judge Mortimer Smith, says that he is frequently addressed as Von Hindenberg. This, he says, is the worst name they call him, though they address him as Von-this and Von-that, till he sometimes gets mixed up himself.

The petitioner says that he is a native American, of Holland Dutch ancestors who were among the first colonists of New York. Notwithstanding this, he says that he is assumed by the general public to be German. He wants the name of James J. Jerome.

Van Hovenberg says in his application that he is a native of New Jersey, and for ten years a resident of California. His wife, Gwendolyn Van Hovenberg, a native of Iowa, joins in the petition.

Natives Form War Savings Society

FRUITVALE, May 11.—The Native Sons of Fruitvale have just organized a war savings society, under the direction of Senator George Hans, with Willis Edwards acting as secretary. The Natives believe that thrift should be encouraged by mutual example and already a considerable number have pledged themselves to saving. The plan is to have every member of the Parlor practice a little self-denial and turn over his loose change to Uncle Sam.

Mooney Et Al Cases Continued to June 11

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The cases of Thomas and Rena Mooney, Edward Nolan and Israel Weinberg, charged with complicity in the preparedness parade dynamiting, were called today in Superior Judge Dunne's court, and by consent were continued until June 11. Other indictments against them in other courts have also been continued.

Superior Judge Griffin now has under advisement Mooney's motion to set aside the verdict and sentence against him on grounds of fraud and malfeasance by the prosecutor's office.

'LIBERTY KNIGHTS' ISSUE AN APPEAL

While secret service operatives and city [illegible] ing recent acts of members of the organization calling itself "Knights of Liberty," the knights have sent out a proclamation which carries what is characterized as "An appeal to the American people and a declaration of principles."

In part the proclamation reads:

"The Knights of Liberty are organized from among the best and most loyal American citizens. Its membership is drawn from the professional, commercial and labor circles, as well as from the ranks of the patriotic German-Americans, in every community in the country.

"We are banded together by the strong ties of loyalty to our nation, our president, and to aid in every way possible the full execution of the law by the civil and military authorities, and the enforcement of obedience to the constitution of the United States.

"We alone are able to render this needed assistance in a quiet, thorough and expeditious manner. We are determined to do it.

"We will not stoop to trifling threats. We will not countenance the work of irresponsible parties done in the name of the Knights of Liberty for reasons of personal grudge. In a word, the Knights of Liberty want the trust and confidence of the people who believe in the urgent need and justice of their work."

"PERSONAL" AD IN THE TRIBUNE GETS CULPRIT

A small "personal" advertisement inserted in The TRIBUNE by District Attorney Ezra Decoto led to the capture of Dave Young of Livermore, wanted on a charge of passing a fictitious check, and who had eluded the police for more than a month. Young answered the "personal" which was worded so as to appear as though it was from one of his friends. He gave his address in his reply, and was surprised when the police instead of his friend called on him. According to District Attorney Decoto, Young made a complete confession.

Young is alleged to have passed a fictitious check for $50 in the Plank saloon in Murray township. He then disappeared and could not be traced until he "fell" for Decoto's advertisement ruse. Young told Decoto that his desire to be a good fellow and stand treats prompted him to cash the check.

FRANKFURTER GETS LABOR POSITION

By ROBERT J. BENDER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Wilson today placed into the hands of Felix Frankfurter of New York and Washington the task of whipping into form a national labor policy for the war.

Frankfurter's appointment makes him "labor administrator" under Secretary of Labor Wilson. He will immediately co-ordinate under his direction the work of all the numerous labor adjustment bodies now existing in the government.

Frankfurter's appointment is an acknowledgment of the quasi-radical element in the labor movement. He has been associated with the so-called liberal element in the country, and was a member of the President's investigating commission which went west and inquired into the Mooney case, among others.

He returned recently from a trip to England where he made a careful study of labor conditions.

Twins Follow Sea to Admiral's Berth

STOCKHOLM, May 11.—An unusual case of twin brothers who have followed the same career and reached the same position in it is presented by two of Sweden's naval officers, Vice-Admiral Gustaf Dyrssen and Vice-Admiral Wilhelm Dyrssen, who have just celebrated their sixtieth birthday. Both became sub-lieutenants in the fleet in 1877.

Gustaf entered the English service in 1881 and took part in the expedition to Egypt. He distinguished himself by his courage and was decorated with the English medal for bravery at sea, of which he is the only Swedish possessor. Returning to Sweden, he was for a few years head of Sweden's naval academy and became vice-admiral last year.

Wilhelm Dryssen participated in the "Vanadis" expedition around the world in 1883-5. He is an expert in the artillery branch of the service.

Both brothers are authors of standard works on naval warfare.

Woman Is Murdered; Another Is Arrested

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Mrs. Moni Milich, whose husband is a soldier in the Austrian army, was in the county jail today awaiting the verdict of a coroner's jury over the body of her neighbor, Mrs. Anna Holiski, also an Austrian, shot dead yesterday in Mrs. Milich's back yard in Belvedere, near here. There had been ill-feeling between the two women, according to the sheriff's office, because Mrs. Holiski, mother of five children, became known as the "Liberty bond buyer," through her purchase of a bond of each issue. The shooting occurred when Mrs. Holiski, missing a kid, traced the tracks to her neighbor's shed and asserted the kid was there. The women fought for a moment, then Mrs. Milich ran to her house and returned with a revolver, it is said. The one shot fired lodged in Mrs. Holiski's brain.

Popular American Officer Is Killed

Major Rasmussen Dies Facing Foe

By NEWTON C. PARKE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 10.—Major A. Rasmussen, soldier of fortune, former major in the Canadian army and one of the best liked officers in the American army, has been killed by shellfire on the sector between Amiens and Paris, where the Americans are fighting beside the French.

Major Rasmussen's home was in Portland, Ore. He was a tall, dark-haired, handsome chap of soldierly bearing, who has taken part in several filibustering expeditions in Central America. Later he fought with the Carranzistas in Western Mexico.

Shortly after the outbreak of the war he obtained a commission with the Canadians, where, oddly enough, his closest friend was a captain from San Francisco, who had fought with the Huerta forces in Mexico against the Carranzistas. This captain and Rasmussen had been assigned to the American forces last fall by the British, the captain as an instructor, his specialty being bayonet work.

WAS BAYONET EXPERT.

Rasmussen taught the Americans' first corps school, but later was assigned to the army school, showing the men the fine points in aggressive bayonet work.

In January Rasmussen was transferred to the American army, and almost immediately he was placed in command of a battalion of one of our best regiments. Shortly afterward these troops entered the line on the Toul front.

During a German gas attack Rasmussen was slightly gassed, but refused to go to the hospital, although ordered there by a doctor. He suffered for a week from the effects of the gas.

On a certain night in April, Rasmussen's battalion began moving down toward a certain trench in the sectors between Paris and Amiens.

Rasmussen rode up to a cottage where the American correspondents were quartered to say goodbye.

CHAFFED CORRESPONDENTS.

"Well, I thought I had seen the last of the Somme country when I was with the Canadians in the big Somme show, but you can never know where you are bound for when you are soldiering," said he.

"If they get me this time you fellows can divide my stuff, but you won't get much in the way of coithing. I'm not taking any chances with good uniforms. Right now I'm wearing my old British tunic."

Just then there was the sharp whine of a shell, the noise increasing in volume. The correspondents ducked their heads as the shell burst in a field about 300 feet away, but Rasmussen merely flicked the ashes from his cigarette and laughed as he exclaimed:

"The old Boches just seem to follow me around."

Rasmussen's battalion started moving in the dusk, while German shells were bursting in the village.

Immediately before he started, Rasmussen leaned down from his horse and shook hands with each correspondent, wishing them good luck and "hoping that they would get their bellies full of shells."

The verdict was signed by Mrs. Emily L. Baruch, forewoman, and was said by court officials to have been the first murder verdict in California to bear a woman juror's signature.

U. S. MISSION IS HONORED BY PARISIANS

PARIS, May 11.—The members of the American Labor delegation were officially received in the city hall by M. Reisz, vice president of the city council, who acted for H. Mathouard, the president, who was ill.

M. Reisz thanked William Graves Sharp, the American ambassador, for the presence of the American delegates and eulogized President Wilson. "American collaboration in the war," said M. Reisz, "will make certain its successful termination."

James Wilson, head of the delegation, assured the French people of the unalterable decision of the United States to push the war with all possible speed.

"We leave France," said Wilson, "with more admiration of the French people than ever before."

In their two days' visit to the front the American delegation saw Verdun and Rheims and talked witht General Pershing.

"We were tremendously impressed and intensely satisfied with what we saw," said Wilson. "The chiefs and the soldiers both told us everything was going well and that they were waiting confidently the event. They know what they are talking about, and we can believe them. We saw the American boys. They fully realize the terrible nature of the struggle we are engaged in and they displayed indomitable energy and courage. They mean to show themselves worthy of their admirable brothers in arms, with whom they are defending civilization and liberty. We are sure they will make good."

Wilson reaffirmed at a luncheon given at the foreign office today that American labor would not discuss the war with representatives of German labor until victory is won, because German labor which is permitting the war, must do something within its own country to end the conflict justly before it could debate with the labor representatives of the allied countries on what ought to be.

The luncheon was given by Stephen Pichon, foreign minister, on behalf of France.

Singer's Clever Midgets Will Be Pantages Feature

Singer's Midgets are back in town again and will open at Pantages Sunday—the picture shows the Midgets in one of their ensemble acts.

Wonderful Lilliputians Have Enlarged Company, Prepared Some New Music and Acts

Singer's Midgets, the wonderful Lilliputians who were the sensation of the last theatrical season in Oakland, breaking all box office records for all attractions for the year, will be the big attraction at Pantages starting Sunday matinee.

The company has been enlarged for its present tour to thirty and the offering includes opera, vaudeville, feats of strength, athletics, musical comedy, and a miniature circus with elephants, ponies and dogs.

An entire floor at the Hotel Oakland has been reserved for the Midgets, a special restaurant engaged as the midgets must eat their own specially prepared food, and ten automobiles engaged to take them from San Francisco to Oakland.

The program presented by the midgets is the most notable yet offered. The musical numbers were staged by Ned Wayburn, the famous New York stage director, and the gowns worn by the women are from the shops of the world's most famous modistes.

The Midgets will be supported by a complete Pantages vaudeville show.

He was one of those 8-year-olds who look as innocent as cherubs and whom the women call "cute." Seated in the corner of a Telegraph-avenue street car, he pulled out a tobacco tin.

"Like to see what's in that?" he inquired, chumming up to a young woman sitting next him. Receiving a reply indicative of curiosity, young innocent opened the tin and tumbled into his hand some earth and seaweed and then a couple of lively crabs.

"I'm going to put them in my young brother's bed tonight," he announced. He allowed one of the crabs to grab him by one of his fingers and held out the crustacean to the young woman for closer examination. The crab let go its hold and tumbled onto the young woman's lap. She gave a little scream and whisked the crab off her lap onto the floor. There it sidled toward other women in the compartment, creating a small panic, until its owner returned it to the tin.

"Guess my young brother won't get a fright when he feels those in his bed," smiled the cherub as he carried off his treasures.

EXTRA TOOTH CAUSES TROUBLE

Lack of faith in his dentist, and the possession of one false tooth, minus its pivot, by one "Hank" Coonley, Oakland's famous "smileless" bartender, not only spoiled the enjoyment of his drink for Charley Hoskyns, local tobacconist, but almost caused a certain dentist to be involved in a personal fray.

Hoskyns had just had a fine bridge of upper false teeth installed—a perfect job and one of great beauty. He was proud. His beauty and his masticative ability had ben restored—so he hied him to "Hank" to have a drink in celebration thereof.

"Hank" happened to know about the teeth. Also, when he handed up Hoskyns' drink he had the extra false tooth neatly palmed. As Hoskyns set down his "chaser," Hank dropped the bogus bicuspid quietly therein.

"Gee! Look!" he exclaimed. "Charley—ya lost a tooth!"

"What? My $200 gone already!" howled the dental patient. He hurried to the glass and searched frantically to see from whence the missing tooth had dropped. Then he seized the glass and started for the dentist to get his money back.

Friends finally restrained him and explained the joke. But he didn't laugh. And he is still nervous at the sight of that false tooth.

MANY "DOING THEIR BIT" TO HELP RED CROSS

Mrs. Horatio Bonestell and her committee collected the pennies from the Red Cross mite boxes on Monday. These boxes or bottles were placed in conspicuous places about Oakland a week previous—310 of them—and the result was $360. This is one of the latest activities of the Oakland Red Cross, and when the 500 bottles are placed the chapter will be assured of an increased and much-needed income.

Alfred McDermott has volunteered his services to the committee, and will collect the money each week.

RETURNS MONEY SHE BORROWED

A woman whose son was drafted into the service and whom the local Red Cross was called upon to assist has written to Mrs Gerard, secretary of the civilian relief, saying that her boy had just been made a second lieutenant. She enclosed a draft for $100 that the government had sent her, asking the Red Cross to take out what she owed for the help she had been given when "she had no one to call on."

Little Helen Currence and a playmate sold paper flags for the windows one afternoon this week, and made $2.50, which she gave to the Red Cross.

Out in Fruitvale there is a grocer who once a week collects the sewing machines in the neighborhood, delivers them at one residence where the women sew all day on hospital garments for the Red Cross. After the store closes he collects the machines again and returns them to their respective owners.

TOWN BOYS HEAR BEST.

LONDON, May 11—Army medical men have made the discovery that city boys have better ears than those from country districts. Only one recruit in five from quiet neighborhoods has the keen hearing possessed by the average city dweller. It is assumed that the quiet of the country tends to weaken, through disuse, the nerves of the ear, while the din of the town keeps the nerves responsive.

AUTO THIEF IN ARMY BEATS GUARD; FLEES

After beating his guard, Private Frost, on the head witht a bottle, George Ruef, automobile thief and well known to the police of this city, escaped from the Presidio in San Francisco last night where he was awaiting trial on a charge of desertion. He is believed to have been aided by a woman.

Ruef operated in Oakland and vicinity with a companion named Cyril Bass. He is said by the authorities to have been responsible for more than fifty auto thefts. Both Ruef and Bass were caught and Ruef was granted probation on condition that he would join the army. He went to Camp Lewis and deserted. He was caught again and turned over to the United Sstates authorities for trial.

Army intelligence operatives and agents of the department of justice are on his trail.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL GIVE SPRING SHOW

The Oakland high school will give its big Spring Musical Show at the Municipal Auditorium tonight. The affair, which includes singing, folk dancing, Greek dancing, an allegory and a scene from grand opera, has been arranged to symbolize the evolution of music from the earliest period of Greek music to modern times.

More than 200 boys and girls of the Oakland high school will take part, in addition to the school orchestra of 40 pieces. Six months has been spent in preparing for the big festival, and the efforts of five departments, music, drawing, sewing, French and English, were coordinated in preparing the choruses, songs and dances, the costumes, stage settings and the allegorical scenes and stories.

The music festival will be attended by the pupils in the school, their parents and frinds and those who wish to aid the school in its purchase of a $500 Liberty Bond. The first payment has been made on the bond, and the students hope to raise enough to complete the payment, and to purchase the bond in the name of the school.

The fete will conclude with the exemplification of nationalism in music, the French national school being represented by a scene from "The Daughter of the Regiment," in which the Marseillaise is sung, and the American by Indian songs, negro melodies, songs of the North and South, and by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" as the finale.

Unsecured Debts Are Protected by Court

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—A decision favorable to the unsecured creditors of Josiah W. Thompson of Uniontown, Pa., has been rendered by the United States circuit court of appeals here. Thompson became bankrupt some time ago, about $60,000,000 worth of coal lands being involved in the failure.

The court refused to vacate a restraining order and allow preferred creditors to dispose of portions of the property by sheriff's sale to satisfy their claims.

OTHER FUNDS ARE TABOOED FOR RED CROSS

Until the Red Cross drive is over the war solicitation endorsement committee, recently appointed by Mayor Davie, will issue no permits for any other solicitation for war funds or goods in Oakland. An ordinance is now pending in the City Council making it a misdemeanor for any person to solicit war aid without the sanction of the committee, fixing a penalty of from $25 to $100 fine for failure to comply.

The letter, addressed to the public, in which the mayor explains the situation, follows:

To the People of Oakland: In view of the necessity of centering all our civic forces upon the successful termination of the drive for the Red Cross, I take this opportunity to warn the people of Oakland not to permit themselves to be diverted by other solicitations.

Your mayor and City Council have recently appointed by resolution the war solicitation endorsement committee for the purpose of passing upon applications for the privilege of soliciting war funds. This committee has decided not to issue permits for any other solicitations until the Red Cross drive is closed.

I respectfully suggest to the people of Oakland that they refuse to subscribe to funds which have not received the endorsement of this official committee and that they decline to encourage any movement that will tend to divert attention from this most important issue.

ORDER CUTS OUT FREIGHT RIVALRY

Freight patronage of the Santa Fe lines north of Fresno will be virtually eliminated by an order understood to have been issued by Western Regional Director Aishton dividing California into two freight shipping districts. That the arrangement is to be put into effect is the unofficial information received here by railroad men.

When the new order goes into effect, all shippers north of Fresno will be limited to the Southern Pacific or Western Pacific; all shippers south of Fresno to the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Salt Lake lines. It is declared that this will force the Central California Traction and Northern Electric to disregard their pacts witht the Santa Fe, and to divert their business to the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific, so that instead of being competitors, they will be feeders to these lines.

Railroad men hold that the new order will destroy every vestige of railroad competition in California. They say this does not matter during government control, as all the money "goes into one pot," but that it will materially affect the Santa Fe patronage in California when a return is made to pre-war conditions. The order will materially economize mileage, however, and is said to be assured for that reason.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, May 11.—Berkeley's contribution in cash, either for bond subscriptions or for outright gift to the work of war, in the twelve months since the war opened, aggregates $80 for every man, woman and child of its population. It has subscribed for bonds in the three Liberty loan drives a grand total of $4,671,000. Its people have purchased $110,000 worth of thrift stamps and have contributed to cash donations to allied war activities a total of $265,000, says Mayor Samuel C. Irving in a report forwarded to Governor W. D. Stephens today for consideration at the first annual war conference of the State Council of Defense, which opens in Sacramento next Tuesday.

The city's fighting contribution in fighting material for the army and navy is estimated at over 2100 young men

"Berkeley has gone over the top in every call," says Mayor Irving. Its bond subscriptions show over 20,000 individual subscriptions. Its Red Cross membership is over 16,000. It has collected for the activities of the Red Cross $70,330, for the Y. M. C. A., $46,000 for the Knights of Columbus $10,000, for the Salvation Army $10,500, for the Y. W. C. It has furnished a library at Yerba Buena Naval station with 18,000 volumes. It has contributed 2617 new war gardens to help out the food supply.

"Its generosity has reached into every zone of the war suffering. The city has three ambulance units in the French fighting zone. It has over 22,000 of its people enrolled as members of the United States Food Administration. It has active organizations engaged in every sort of relief and its people grow more enthusiastic every day for the whole task of winning the war. It has an excellently organized campaign of Americanization. It has newly adopted and drastic laws to put down sedition in every form."

Mayor Irving concludes by saying that over 417 organizations and clubs are contributing their share in the general community work of the war.

Gibson the Secretary of the American Legation at Brussels, who had gone to London for that purpose, none foresaw that the institution would grow to such proportions and would become the greatest work of the kind ever attempted.

Give Interest to Red Cross Movement
Berkeleyans Pledge Loyal Support

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, May 11. — More than a thousand Berkeley people assembled last night at a mass meeting at Berkeley High school auditorium as a climax to War Organization Week in the college city pledged the interest on their Liberty Bonds during the year 1918 to aid the work of the Red Cross

This, with a message of loyalty sent to President Wilson and three rousing cheers for General Pershing and his men at the front marked one of the most enthusiastic wartime asseblies held in Berkeley.

"Let Berkeley send out a slogan to the entire country—Every cent of interest on Liberty Bonds during 1918 to go to the Red Cross,'" was the suggestion of Dr Frederick Vining Fisher, director of the war organization activities of the National and State Councils of Defense. "Are you willing"

"We are!" came back the response from a thousand throats. That this pledge, if recorded by the entire country would mean $127,000,000 annually for the work of the Red Cross was the statement of Dr. Fisher

CHOOSE OFFICERS.

Mayor Samuel C Irving and Gustavus Schneider, superintendent of Berkeley's playgrounds, were chosen temporary organized last night Represented in the Berkeley's big war community council organized last night Represented n the council are delegates from every church, lodge, club and other organizations of Berkeley and Albany

Dr. Fisher was presiding officer at last night's meeting, while as speakers were Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College, Rev. C. S. S. Dutton, pastor of the First Unitarian church, San Francisco. Rev. H. E. B. Speight, president Berkeley chapter, Red Cross; Lieutenant John Lark Carter, formerly of the First Canadian Pioneers; George Hough Perry of New York and Frank Linder of Boston.

"Don't think that by singing a song with great words that you are winning the war," declared Dr. Reinhardt. "This war is not work for a community council, it is work for individuals. Don't let our men come home from the front and let them tell you that you were not 'over there' with them in spirit and in endeavors during this greaft conflict."

BATTLE OF SOULS.

"This war is something more than a battle of armies and navies, it is a battle of souls of men and women," declared Dr. Dutton in his address. "The soul of America is in danger and our battle is harder and more fundamental than the battle the boys are fighting over there I am not worrying about the fight over there. God grant we will win and win soon, but we'll win if it takes 25 years to do it. My doubts are here in America. It is no easy thing to be an American. It is easier to live in Europe under the old traditions and go the way of our forefathers, with class distinction and all the other unfairnesses of autocracy.

"What is America? America means that the schools of the south be opened to the black as well as the white, that equal taxes be levied both on the black and the white. America means that the laborer of Colorado be given an equal [illegible] with the capitalist. America means that every man, woman and child, white, black or yellow, be given the full citizenship of God's democracy.

"America must exist in England, it most exist in France, it must exist in Italy and God grant that it will exist in Germany."

APPEAL MADE.

A stirring appeal for the support of the Red Cross in the coming drive was made by Lieutenant Carter, who contrasted the German Red Cross methods with those of the allies. He scored the girl who knitted bright-colored garments for herself in war time while the soldiers in the trenches were shivering with cold.

Between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 bandages are being used daily on the allied war fronts, he stated. He cited cases where soldiers stripped off dirty underwear to provide bandages for wounded men during the early part of the war to meet a shortage.

"It would be better to have hundreds and even thousands of warehouses filled with bandages and hospital supplies at the end of the war than to have one single soldier go without a bandage now," he said in appealing to the women of Berkeley to do their all in Red Cross work.

A warning against peace rumors at present being circulated was sounded by George Hough Perry. "The peace rumors which are beginning to permeate Europe are nothing more than the most dangerous kind of an attack on our military morale," he said "They are intended for nothing more Until the German people come to us with clean hands let us tell them we don't want peace"

Community singing was lead during the evening by Gustavus Schneider, while Charles Price and H. Hogan, both sailors from Mare Island, sang solos and duets The meeting concluded with patriotic pictures of America.

A meeting of the community council at which permanent organization will be effected will be called in the near future, according to announcement made last night.

WHITE CHARGES BLACKMAIL PLOT

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, May 11.—Facing a charge of forgery preferred by E. W. Zech of Oakland, Tillman White, San Francisco inventor who was arrested Thursday after kidnaping his daughter from her home in Berkeley, was arraigned in Judge Edgar's court this morning

White's plea that he was engaged in government work at San Diego involving a secret process for hardening aluminum for aeroplane engines caused his examination to be set over until June 13. He asked that the case be postponed a month in order that he might conclude contracts on which he is now at work. White is being held at the city jail in default of $1000 bail, which, it is expected, will be furnished today.

Zech's charge against White is that on June 23, 1917, the latter forged his name to a check for $35 made out by the Hanlon shipbuilding plant as compensation for services. White declares that the whole charge is a blackmail plot.

"Last June Zech was hurt while at work and was in a hospital," said White "I went to see him and brought him some clothes which I had purchased for him. He asked me to go to the shipbuilding yards and get his clothing and also a check for money which was due him. He told me to endorse the check with both his name and mine if I needed the money. I did so and cashed the check.

"Later I saw Zech just before I was going to join my family at Monte Rio for an outing I told him I had cashed his check and he said that it was all right. He asked me how I was fixed financially and I told him I needed money. He gave me $10 and I left. That was the last I heard of the case until yesterday. It's pure and simple blackmail, that's all."

White's arrest on Thursday followed a sensational dash through Oakland and Berkeley with his kidnaped daughter, Parma, 12 years old. He was apprehended in San Francisco as he was leaving the ferryboat and brought to Berkeley, where he was lodged in the city jail. The daughter is with her mother at 2518 Ellsworth street

SANDBAG IS USED FOR MANY THINGS

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, May 11.—The sandbag is one of the most useful pieces of military equipment found anywhere, and the soldier puts it to manifold uses. Their official use, of course, is to be filled with sand or clay and built into ramparts, barricades and trenches. Their unofficial uses are legion.

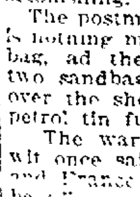

The infantryman always uses a sandbag for carrying and storing his rations, for patching and reinforcing his clothing, for lining and curtaining his dugout, for muffling mallets and stakes when putting up wire in No-Man's land. They make excellent gaiters, being tied on over the puttees as a further protection against mud and damp. They make cosy mufflers in bad weather. They are used to cover shrapnel helmets to prevent reflection, and they are frequently in demand for rifle covers.

Many soldiers always pull two sandbags over their feet and legs when going to bed in billets; in other words, the sandbag is Tommy's pajamas. The warmth and comfort of a burlap sandbag when pulled over chilled feet is astonishing.

The postman's mail bag at the front is nothing more than an empty sandbag, ad the water-carriers also use two sandbags, slung back and front over the shoulder, each containing a petrol tin full of water.

"The war will be over," a soldier wit once said, "when all of Belgium and France has been put into sandbags."

CAPT. TRUDGETT WRITES TO WIFE

TRIBUNE BUREAU
1434 PARK ST.

ALAMEDA, May 11. — Captain Robert Trudgett, American skipper now a German prisoner of war in Germany, has written to his wife and the letter is now en route to the Trudgett home at 208 Willow street, this city. The news of the coming of the letter is contained in a four-word cable received by Mrs. Trudgett [illegible] England, who had word direct from Trudgett to the effect that he had dispatched a letter to his wife.

The cablegram this week is the second message Mrs. Trudgett has received regarding her husband, but so far she has not had any direct word, the message coming through others. The first word was sent by the Red Cross in Germany.

Captain Trudgett and his vessel, the San Francisco schooner Winslow, were captured in the south Pacific by a German raider, and the captain was carried to Germany as a prisoner of war. Mrs. Trudgett has not seen her husband in over a year. She got a letter from him last May as he was about to sail from an Australian port for San Francisco. During the many months that no word came, Mrs. Trudgett did not believe that he could have been captured by a German raider, but thought he had lost his vessel and life in an ocean disaster.

WILLIAM MINOR, FORMER JUDGE, PASSES AWAY

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, May 11.—After lying at the point of death for the past three weeks, William O. Miner, well-known former jurist of the San Joaquin valley and prominent Berkeley attorney, died at an early hour this morning at the family home, 1720 Euclid avenue.

Judge Miner rallied somewhat earlier in the week and it was expected for a time that he might recover from an attack of paralysis with which he was stricken three weeks ago. An illness extending over three or four years, however, had weakened him and he was unable to withstand the severe attack of last month.

Judge Miner was 68 years old and for eighteen years occupied a place on the superior bench in Modesto He gave up his judicial duties eight years ago to come to Berkeley to afford his children the advantages of a college education and since that time had been engaged in the practice of law in the college city.

Judge Miner was a member of an old southern family and was born at Music Hall, the family estate of the Miners, in Abermale county, near Richmond, Va.

A son, Richard, a lieutenant in the aviation corps, now stationed at Atlanta, Ga., and two daughters, Lulu and Constance Miner, graduates of the University of California, survive him.

Locke Candidate for Asemblyman

ALAMEDA, May 11.—W. J. Locke, secretary of the California League of Municipalities, announced today that he would be a candidate for assemblyman from this district. This is the first announcement of any candidate, though there has been talk of Secretary E. J. Silver of the Chamber of Commerce making a campaign for the place.

Locke has been a resident of Alameda for years. He has been a steady attendant at legislature sessions for several years by reason of his municipalities work.

Locke is an attorney, with offices in San Francisco. He is editor of California Municipalities, a special publication devoted to the work of city government, and especially to the work of the League of California Municipalities. His home is at 1161 Bay street.

Burglars Work All Night Opening Safe

CHICAGO, May 11.—Police today were seeking clews to two cracksmen who, after working for seven hours last night and early this morning, blew up a safe in the branch office of Armour & Co and got away with $1000. A watchman whom they bound and gagged, lay on the floor above and said seven blasts were used before the men succeeded. He said each one shook the building. He said they arrived at 10 o'clock and worked until 5 this morning.

MODERN PULPIT METHODS SCORED

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, May 11.—That many ministers are preaching sermons on subject matters fit for a village community in the days before the railroad made its appearance was the charge hurled at present-day clergymen by Dr. William S. Morgan, professor in the Pacific Unitarian School for the Ministry, at the closing session yesterday of the Pacific Coast Conference of Unitarian Churches held at the First Unitarian church in this city.

"The preacher of today must enter the social order, must apply his ethics of religion to the problems of the time in which he lives," declared Dr. Morgan. "The accepted categories of the nineteenth century are inadequate to meet the needs of the present day. If the pulpit has a message to deliver to the modern world, it must adjust itself to a changing situation."

MUST CHANGE VISION.

Dr. Morgan declared that before the redemptive vision of the church is realized its program must be re-arranged in the light of social conditions of the present time.

"Church problems must be molded on the tragedies of the world," he said. "Moral tragedies must be seen from a social viewpoint. We are guilty of each other's sins, to save one, we must save all together. We must study the social fabric in all its complexities."

Caution against a minister mingling too freely with problems outside his pulpit was urged by Rev O P Shrout, who followed Dr. Morgan in a discussion devoted to the subject of preaching."

"Many ministers are dealing with questions where other people could do much better," he declared. "In many instances they are losing the great thing called religion. The things which the world needs more than anything else at the present time is the spiritual idea and a broad vision."

CONFERENCE CLOSED.

Dr Shrout urged ministers not to hand down "second-hand" religion gleaned only from books and not felt by the soul.

"Most of us have some of the Nazareno in us if we will only seek it out," he said.

The annual conference was brought to a close last night by a discussion of the moral aims of the great world war led by Rev. Clarence Reed of San Francisco. Rev. Francis J. Van Horn of Oakland and Rev. U. G. B. Pierce of Washington, D. C., were the speakers.

The annual dinner of the Laymen's League of the Unitarian church preceded the closing session of the conference, with more than 90 guests sitting down in Unity hall. Wellyn B. Clark, president of the league, presided, while the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, L. H. Duschak; vice-president, F. L. Wheeler; secretary-treasurer, Dr. W. B. McCracken; and member of the council, Rev. H. E. B. Speight.

WOMEN PREPARE TO AID RED CROSS

RICHMOND, May 11.—The spirit of enthusiasm displayed at the meeting of the Mobilized Women last evening when arrangements were made for conducting the Red Cross drive of May 20-27 indicated that the city has no need to worry about the result. The meeting was held in the Richmond clubhouse and was well attended by the majors, captains, lieutenants and other workers. Mrs. C. S. Gibson presided.

Besides the Richmond units there were representatives from El Cerrito, Winehaven, San Pablo, Giant, Hercules and Pinole. Charles J. Crary, chairman of the chapter, explained the financial needs and H. D. Chapman asked the women to get a list of men in the service from the homes of this city that the relief work of the Red Cross here might be properly directed

Headquarters will be at the East Bay Water Company's office on the east side and at some point to be selected on the west side Mrs H. W. Tuller will be in charge of the east side headquarters. Daily reports will be made through the organization to Chairman C. E. Clark of the executive committee in charge of the drive.

New Order Relieves Santa Fe of Charge

RICHMOND, May 11.—The Railroad Commission has issued a supplemental order to that authorizing Richmond to build a street at grade across the Pullman spur track at Richmond, and the expense to be borne by the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific, half in half, so that the Santa Fe will not have to pay any of the cost of the crossing. It appeared that the spur is owned by the Pullman Company entirely, and not by the Santa Fe.

Pullman Employees to Give Red Cross Dance

RICHMOND, May 11.—Plans for the big Red Cross dance of the Pullman employees which will be held at the East Shore Park on May 5 are progressing, and the committee in charge expects a large crowd. It is hoped that at least 1000 tickets can be sold for the affair. The committee on program has promised many unique features for advertising the event.

Australian Wheat Arrives at Vallejo

VALLEJO, May 11.—Bringing 6000 tons of wheat from Australia a big sailing vessel has arrived at the Sperry Flour Mills at South Vallejo and is discharging her cargo at the grain elevator. According to officers of the ship the 1915 crop of wheat is still in the warehouses in Australia, and at one port wheat is piled twenty sacks high over an area of ten square miles. It is claimed that there is wheat sufficient in the Antipodes to supply the world if there were ships enough in the Pacific to transport it to this country. Great quantities of Australian wheat are to be brought to Vallejo to be converted into flour for use in this country and Europe.

Dock and Deck

Aftter discharging her cargo, the schooner Crowley, formerly the steamer City of Panama was towed to the Moore shipyard, Oakland, this morning, to be cleaned and painted. She is to have a topmast placed on all of her six spars, which will enable her to make better sailing time. The craft will be here for some time before she will be ready for sea.

Sixty-one days from Lerpha the schooner Resolute reached port yesterday with copra, under command of Captain Christensen. He left that port six days later than the schooner Planter, but saw nothing of her on the voyage. The Planter has not arrived yet, but her owner, Walter Scammell of Oakland, does not feel worried, and says she should make port within a few days.

Captain Sorensen, master of the five-masted schooner Snow and Burgess, still keeps up his good record for making quick voyages, arriving here from Manila yesterday with 1000 tons of shells and 1750 tons of copra, in 58 days. This won bets for her owner, Andrew Mahony, who wagered hats, dinners and suits of clothes with other ship owners that the craft would reach port inside of sixty days.

SCHOONER ATLAS ON LONG VOYAGE.

The power schooner Atlas, which has been in this port since the outbreak of the German war, sailed from here yesterday on her long voyage to an off shore port. She was formerly a German craft, although built at Oakland by the Stone Shipbuilding Company She now flies the Stars and Stripes. Captain Behnhardt went out as master of the craft, which will be away for several months.

The Southern Pacific ferry steamer Alameda is still at the company's shipyard in Oakland receiving a new shaft She has been tied up for over a month, but crews at the shipyard are hard to get Many of the old hands are now working at outside yards, where they receive larger salaries.

The new motor schooner James Timpson arrived at Coos bay yesterday and began loading her first cargo for Oakland, which consists of lumber. She was built at the Columbia river, and will arrive at this port during the next week.

DAMAGE TO STEAMER SHOWN BY SURVEY.

A survey on the steamer Governor shows that six of her steel plates and 3 feet of her bilge keel will have to be removed and nine other plates to be repaired before she can go to sea again. Repairs will take about two weeks. The Governor struck the breakwater at Victoria May 7, while en route from this port to Puget sound

When the barkentine Retriever arrived at Portland the skipper Captain John Ross, brought with him a relic which came from the sea raider Seeadler, recently wrecked on Mopeha island in the South Seas It is a bayonet and will be kept among his curios.

Captain John Lindberg has been appointed master of the steamer Northland, and Captain Walter Tino takes command of the new steamer Point Arena. The latter craft was taken over by the United States Shipping Board.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, May 11.—With Cupid and Mars as joint conspirators, campus records for engagements were shattered to bits last night at the annual banquet of the senior women of the University of California held at the Hotel Claremont.

Twenty-eight fair members of the graduating class blushingly acknowledged either that they had been wed or that they had promised their hands in marriage For the first time in the history of the university, "war brides" shared honors with engaged girls at the festive board and were accorded special honors by their classmates.

Miss Florence Cochrane and Lieutenant Ben Harvey, Miss Gail Partridge and Lieutenant Parr, Miss Amelia Muir and Lieutenant Frank Marvin, Miss Lucille Vazeille and Lieutenant Gabbert, and Miss Beatrice Winder and A. H. Martens.

Tiny gold wedding rings enclosed in beribboned boxes were chosen from trays by the engaged and married girls, the other co-eds choosing golden wishbones as the trays were passed about the banquet tables.

SOCIETY

For the first time in its social history the beautiful gardens surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McKinney Alexander of Piedmont are to be thrown open to the public for a large benefit—a dance al-fresco—Saturday afternoon and evening, June 1. And the reason for this generous offer upon the part of the Alexanders is to raise funds for the sending of the children under the care of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society to their annual summer outing. Each year the society sends to a summer camp these little children to give them a better start in life. Heretofore the funds have been raised entirely by subscription and this year, with so many demands already upon the public purse, another plan of raising money has been resorted to by the anti-tuberculosis committee.

No more perfect setting for an outdoor fete could be found in Piedmont than the terraced lawn of the Alexander home. Throughout the gardens are quaint bridge, Japanese pool and summerhouses.

A dance al-fresco is the nature of the afternoon and evening program. The great tennis court, larger in proportion than the ballroom of the Hotel Oakland, is where the supper will be served, scores upon scores of smaller tables placed within its precincts, and here in the twilight hours friends will gather for refreshment, remaining for the dance in the evening.

In the afternoon the soldier and sailor boys are to be guests at the dance.

There will be delightful music both afternoon and evening sessions, and, altogether two objects will have been accomplished, the public will experience the most pleasurable events of the season, and the little children for whom all this has been planned will be made the happier by a six weeks' outing either at mountains or seashore.

Mrs. John C. Rohlfs was hostess at an interesting luncheon on Thursday at her home across the bay, when a group of guests went over to accept the hospitality of the charming French woman, among them the Mesdames William S. Rheem, Joseph P. Smith, J. M. Atwell, Luther Dimm, H. H. Hart, H. M. Storey and Mrs. Joseph Russell Knowland.

Lavender sweet peas formed the table embellishment.

Luncheon over, bridge rounded out a delightful afternoon.

Mrs. Rohlfs has endeared herself to hosts of friends on both sides of the bay, not only through her interesting personality, but through her exceptional musical attainments, having been for some years the soprano of the Opera Comique in Paris.

Mrs. Rohlfs was heard twice on this side of the bay within a fortnight—at the last concert at the Interdenominational Church in Piedmont and on last Monday night, when she was one of the contributors to the program offered at the benefit concert given by Mrs. Paul O. Tietzen at her Claremont home.

The customary Saturday evening dance at the Oakland Defenders' Club will be held this evening in the ballroom upstairs, when there will be special music under the direction of Miss Rose O'Brien, who will be assisted by a number of local artists. Music has always been the paramount feature at these Saturday night gatherings at the clubhouse and is entirely voluntary on the part of the musicians. The University of California, the high school and many other smaller groups have taken turns lending their assistance for the entertainment of the enlisted men upon these occasions. "For Democracy" is the title of a new song to be introduced to the men this evening, the composition written by Miss O'Brien herself. Mrs. John H. Perine is chairman of the entertainment committee.

News of WOMEN'S CLUBS

By EDNA B. KINARD.

"If the women of the allied nations stopped working for twenty minutes," declared Miss Mary McDowell of Chicago and member of the committee on women in industry under the National Council of Defense, "the cause of the allies would be lost."

The judgment which Miss McDowell brings is one of the proofs of the importance of women in industry. California has been peculiarly blest in the laws safeguarding its women and children, the standards which have been set and maintained, and the work which the Industrial Welfare Commission has not only done but is still doing. However, while comparisons are odious, it is only by comparison that California may have some idea of where its women and children stand with regard to other states. There was held in Washington, D. C., a few weeks ago, under the woman's committee, Council of National Defense, a conference on women in industry with leaders representing fifteen states, when some interesting data was presented and problems frankly discussed.

Perhaps the most vital national issue which was introduced was the plan for the creation of a war labor administration utilizing the Department of Labor machinery and adding to it when not sufficient to meet wartime demands. A woman in industry service is to be one of the additions. There will, moreover, be women's sections in every department, such as the ordnance, the quartermaster's, etc., with a woman in charge of each. The director of the women in industry service will sit on the Secretary of Labor's policies board. The outline has been submitted and approved by the Secretary of Labor and is waiting only a proper appropriation to put it into effect. The chief conclusions of the whole conference were (1) women must be watchful to secure the full enforcement of labor laws for women and children; (2) they must endeavor to maintain standards; (3) the protection of women in industry means the saving of children.

Believing that "information is the chief problem before working women, Illinois has set about giving publicity not only regarding existing laws and standards, but concerning the manner in which they are observed by employers. One thousand women workers will be housed in one dormitory in Waterbury, Connecticut, where social welfare workers will be established at the request of the munition plant.

Kentucky is finding its difficulty in the flood of wives, sisters and sweethearts of the men stationed in the camps, who will accept any work regardless of conditions or pay. Massachusetts has been endeavoring to make 21 years the age for employment in factories, but has been unsuccessful in obtaining an age minimum for women at 18.

The "Kissof death" shuttle" is Rhode Island's great menace, being the sure messenger of tuberculosis to cotton mill workers in the state. Rhode Island has 600,000 women in industry and no law against night work.

✡ ✡ ✡

Going directly to the draft figures, Wisconsin women have found exactly what the depletion to labor has been through the draft and in what fields. Among the recommendations which were made by the conference were:

That the Department of Women in Industry does not declare against any occupation for women, but will see to it that conditions are standardized and women not used to lower standards.

That no inmate of a state institution be allowed to enter the labor market in competition with free labor.

That in the make-up of departments whenever possible there be represented trade unions.

California women are standing ready to fulfill their full share of obligation to the industrial field but they are insisting upon standards in housing, conditions and wages. Moreover the general policy of the western women is that she shall not rush into all kinds of work, particularly that for which there is still a sufficient supply of man labor.

Women's clubs throughout the state are asked to definitely state their stand on the question of women in industry. It is realized that public opinion will have greater influence on the fate of industry and industrial workers than anything which can be brought to bear.

War and discussions are taboo during the weekly meetings of the Worth While Club, numbering some twenty-five exclusive women in the Linda Vista and Vernon Heights district. It is not a lack of patriotism which has prompted the framing of the new rule for not a woman among them but has done her full quota and more as an individual and as a club member in all the activities which are written down as war work and as necessary to the victory which must come. Most of the women have given sons to swell the ranks of the land and sea forces and some of them have sent several. The Wednesday meetings are devoted to Red Cross work and to plans for the Baby Hospital Association which after all is but another phase of war work in its last analysis.

Nevertheless, war is not discussed on Wednesdays. Before the unbreakable rule was passed war discussions occupied the entire time. Mothers, hearts made tender by partings with those they loved, listened and wept and suffered, and one by one, worn out with emotion departed just as mothers all over the land are doing, each day. And somebody suggested that even mothers doing valiantly their part in sending boys across seas and in accomplishing what they themselves could at home, owed to the nation the duty of keeping sane and normal.

That is why the "Worth While Club has inaugurated the warless program. It is a haven to come to for a little time each week that a little diversion may be offered and a little strength gained in light song and story albeit heavy work that the women may go out to face the rest of the week in courage.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Smith is opening her Vernon street gardens for an al fresco party on Tuesday afternoon, May 28, that the wool fund of the club may be materially added to before the adjournment for the summer.

The closing meeting of the year was held on Wednesday, preceded by a cafeteria luncheon. The address of the day was made by Principal C. H. Hudspeth. Music was contributed by Mrs. Edwin Cerruti. Unless one knows just how clever the youngsters in the Garfield school are, one could never guess before hand how delightful will be the May Fete, which is being planned for tomorrow evening. There will be scores and scores of fascinating children in the songs and dances and pretty tableaux which will go into the making of the extravaganza which is to bring into the coffers of the patriotic treasury a goodly little fortune. Following the program, in which all the classes in the Garfield school will participate, working out a charming May story, there will be a community dance in the assembly hall.

A Country Fair is the unique entertainment which the Mothers' Club of Fruitvale School No. 1 is announcing for May 17. THE WATCH :: :: :: By Early

OF course, hours, minutes and seconds—as we all realize since the clocks were put an hour ahead—are merely conventional symbols with which to mark Time's flight. Yet it isn't by wrist-watch time—HIS gift with his picture in the back—nor yet by the succession of alternate nights and days that time is most truly measured—'tis by HEART-THROBS, the watch of the heart! How short time seems when HE is near—how long when he's away! And, strangest of all, long as it may seem in the living, how GLORIOUSLY BRIEF it will be in retrospect when he comes sailing proudly home again in the TRIUMPH OF RIGHT!

HOW MADGE TOLD DICKY.

"I'm almost glad you had a headache, after all," quoth Dicky. I suppose I looked my astonishment at his remark, for he explained immediately.

"If you hadn't had the headache, we would have stayed at Lil's, and the four of us would have gone to some cafe or music hall. We'd never have broken away from there before daylight. It's lots more comfy here in our own little home, don't you think?"

"Indeed I do," I assented heartily, and then fell silent, wondering how best to tell Dicky the things which had happened during the eventful day of which this midnight lunch was to be the close.

I did not know how to begin, so I plunged into the very middle of things.

"Dicky," I said timorously, "you were right this morning, and I was wrong about my cousin. I never dreamed you could be right, but you were. I am awfully sorry I went to dinner with him. It would have been much better if I had telephoned him I was married and asked him to call on us."

My husband bent a long, searching glance at me. There was more than a hint of anger in his eyes.

"What do you mean?" he asked. "Did you find out Cousin Jack wasn't quite so brotherly as you had thought him."

There was a sneer in his voice that ordinarily would have stung me to a spirited retort, but I was too miserable over the discovery I had made in the morning to answer him in the spirit of his question.

"I found out he cared for me, had done so for years, and I never dreamed of it," I said humbly.

Dicky was silent for a long while. I did not dare to look at him, but my eyes, which were resting on the table saw his hand clench and unclench and clench again into a formidable looking fist. All at once he broke the silence explosively.

WHAT DICKY SAID.

"The hound?" he exclaimed. "The whining hound! He must be a nice specimen, this Cousin Jack. He didn't tell you he 'cared'"—oh, the venom Dicky threw into the word—"when you were free and he had his chance, but waited until he knew you were safely married, and then pulled this 'I have loved you madly and secretly stuff——"

"Stop, Dicky!" My voice was firm enough now. I knew that his anger against Jack would be directed against me in a few more minutes, but I could not remain silent and let him say such words or even think such thoughts of Jack, honorable, high-minded Jack.

"You are utterly mistaken," I said, raising my eyes and meeting his astonished ones steadily. "Jack Bickett would have cut off his right hand sooner than to have told me he cared for me if he had known I was married."

The anger which smouldered in Dicky's eyes blazed up again.

"And may I ask why he didn't know you were married?" he asked icily.

"Because I didn't tell him until after we had had our dinner."

"Oh!" The little monosyllable might have been volumes, so eloquent it was. "Very considerate of you, I am sure. But unless Cousin Jack is a blithering idiot, may I suggest that he probably saw your wedding and engagement rings, and thus was not so ignorant of the truth as he would like to make it appear."

It had come—the moment I dreaded, when I should have to tell Dicky the one foolish wrong thing I had done during the morning. I felt my nerves quiver all over my body as I braced myself to tell him the truth and meet the scene which I knew must follow.

If I had been almost any other woman, I would have gone coaxingly to Dicky, caressed him and pleaded my case so successfully that he would not have minded the revelation. With one part of my brain I realized that I could soothe Dicky's temper and avoid the scenes which upset me so if I could only bring myself to the clinging vine attitude so many women adopt successfully.

But it is impossible for me to make any advances to Dicky, to attempt to caress him—especially if he is angry at me. So, instead of explaining first the reason for my action of the morning, I ruthlessly blurted out the bare, simple truth.

"He did not see my rings because I took them off when I removed my gloves and put them in my meshbag. I might as well tell you all the rest now. After we had finished our dinner, and my cousin had told me about his caring, I was very much upset, for I did not dream of it—"

"Oh, of course not," interjected Dicky contemptuously. "Taking off your rings showed that."

"I began to cry," I went on, loathing myself for telling all this, but determined to go through with the whole thing, "and Jack called a taxi and we went up to Central Park. He wanted to give me time to control myself. On the way I told him I was married. Then he realized that I must have taken off my rings. He told me I ought to put them back on, and when I looked in my bag for them they were gone."

"What stuff is this?" Dicky interrupted. You have your rings on at this minute."

"Yes, I know," I returned, "but I did not find them for nearly an hour. We rushed back to the restaurant, and Jack went in to look for them. While he was gone Mr. Underwood passed the taxi, and, seeing me, thought I was on my way to his home. Just then Jack came down the steps and said to me 'I can't find them anywhere.' Mr. Underwood asked us if we had lost anything, and I answered, 'No, nothing of any consequence,' for I did not wish him to know about it. But he happened to look at my ungloved hand, and he said, 'Oh, I see, nothing of any consequence,' so sneeringly."

Dicky uttered a vigorous oath and rising, began to pace up and down the room.

"Mr. Underwood went away then," I continued, "and Jack and I started to find you. He said if I had lost my rings he was going to be the one to tell you. But when I put on my gloves the rings rolled out of a glove, and I put them on and came on home here, and then went over to Mrs. Underwood's. Mr. Underwood telephoned me here before I left, saying he would not speak of the loss of the rings, but I told him a falsehood about them."

"You did? What?" Dicky's voice was sharp and peremptory.

"I told him that my rings had not been lost, that my gloves were too tight and that I had removed them to put on my gloves."

"Good!" Dicky's voice held a note of relenting. "That's one thing saved any way. Wonder your conscience would let you tell that much of a lie."

His sneer roused me. I had been speaking in a dreary monotone which typified my feelings. Now I faced him, indignant.

"See here, Dicky Graham, don't you imagine it would have been easier for me to lie about all this? I didn't need to tell you anything. Another thing I want you to understand plainly and that is my reason for not telling Jack at first that I was married. If I had had a real brother, you would have thought it perfectly natural for me to have waited for his return before I married. Now, no brother in the world could have been kinder to me than was Jack Brickett. We were indebted to him for a thousand kindnesses, for a lifetime of devotion. I never should have married without first telling him about it. Do you wonder that, realizing that, I delayed in every way the story of my marriage until I could find a suitable opportunity? I give you my word of honor that I did not dream he cared, and I expect you to believe me."

I walked steadily toward the door of my bedroom. I had not reached it, however, before Dicky clasped me in his arms, and I felt his hot kisses on my face.

"I'm seventeen kinds of a jealous brute, I know, sweetheart," he whispered, "but the thought of that other man, who seems to mean so much to you, drives me mad. I'm selfish, I know, but I'm mad about you."

I put my arms around his neck. "Don't you know, foolish Dicky," I murmured, "that there's nobody else in the world for me but just you, you, you?"

Garis' BEDTIME STORY

(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was walking along through the woods one day when, behind a clump of bushes he heard some of the animal children laughing, and a voice cried:

"Now, don't throw any more snowballs until I'm ready!"

"Ha! What's this I hear?" thought the bunny to himself, as he stood still listening and twinkling his pink nose. "Snowballs this time of year, when it is very hot, even for May? There must be some mistake!"

But again he heard the voice saying:

"Now, all ready! Throw as many snowballs as you like. I've got a big fern for an umbrella and you can't hit me!"

Uncle Wiggily went softly over to the clump of bushes and there he saw Johnny and Billie Bushytail, the two squirrel boys. They were skipping about, jumping here and there, and having a fine time, and Johnnie held over his head a big green fern leaf, like an umbrella.

"Oh, hello, Uncle Wiggily!" called the squirrel boys, jolly like.

"Hello, Johnnie and Billie," he answered. "What is this I heard you saying about snowballs? Are you playing a make-believe game and pretending that snowballs are on the ground now, in May?"

"Oh, no, it isn't make believe at all," said Johnnie. "See, here are some snowballs," and he held out a pawful of little white, round things that did, indeed look like tiny, baby snowballs.

"Of course, they're not real," went on Johnnie. "These are just a sort of round, hard berry that grows on a bush in the woods. We call them snowballs because they look like that and we pick them and throw them at one another and make believe we're having a winter snow battle."

"I see," said Uncle Wiggily, as he, too, picked some of the snowball berries. They were cool and white, and were more like snowballs than lots of things I've seen.

"Want to play with us?" asked Billie as he pelted his brother with a pawful of the cool, white berries.

"Thank you, no," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I have to go look for an adventure. Some other day I'll play with you."

Then Johnnie and Billie went on pelting one another with the bush snowballs, and Uncle Wiggily hopped on and on through the woods. He had not gone very far before he came to a cave, and from it came a doleful voice saying, most sadly:

"Oh, dear! What shall I do? Oh, how hot I am. Oh, I don't see what made him forget it. I'll surely melt with the heat."

"Ha! This is not such a very hot day," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "There can be but one of my friends who would talk that way. It must be Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear," and, looking in the cave, Uncle Wiggily saw that it was, indeed, the white creature who was talking to himself so sadly.

"What's the matter, Mr. Whitewash?" asked the bunny.

"Oh, the ice man forgot to leave my cake of ice this morning," answered Mr. Whitewash, "and I am so warm without it I don't know what to do! My ice, on which I sleep, as I used to do at the North Pole, all melted yesterday, and I surely thought the ice man would leave me an extra big chunk today. But he didn't—and—oh dear! How hot I am."

"Wait a minute, and perhaps I can help you," said the bunny.

Back he ran to where Johnnie and Billie were still playing with the white round balls.

"Gather as many as you can and come with me," said Uncle Wiggily. And when the two squirrel boys had done this Mr. Longears led them to the cave of Mr. Whitewash, and told them to toss the round balls inside.

"Oh, my! It's raining snowballs," cried the polar bear, as he saw them bounce in his cave. "Why, how cool I feel, all of a sudden! I can stand it now until the man comes with my cake of ice. I'll just lie down on the pile of snowballs. I wonder where they came from!"

"I had Johnnie and Billie bring them to you," said Uncle Wiggily. "They are not real cold icy snowballs, Mr. Whitewash, but I thought you could pretend they were, and keep a bit cooler."

"So I can," said the polar bear, as he stretched out on the pile of snowballs in his dark cave. "I'll just pretend these are chunks of snow, and I'll feel very cool. Thank you, boys, and you, too, Uncle Wiggily."

And then Mr. Whitewash pretending the snowball plants were real, had a cool sleep and was happy. And the next day the ice man came, so everything was all right. And if the little baby bottle of cream doesn't try to push the big bottle of milk off the stoop, so it can't sleep on the doormat, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the blue bells.

CHURCHES TO HONOR MOTHERS' DAY

OUR MOTHERS: By Rev. Frank M. Silsley, Pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Oakland

Mother, we salute thee! Wonderful mother! We open wide the gates of memory and travel back over the path of childhood and youth and there we feel your presence like a guardian angel. Great and kind mother!

You loved us off to school when we were in the rollicking stage or in tooming teens. You smiled us a welcome into your gracious heart when we came home. You listened rapturously to all our happy experiences and patiently to the story of our hard knocks and juvenile crosses. You encouraged us and cheered us when the way was dark and hard. You stroked our brow when the fever raged, or patted our shoulder when the tests of life loomed as certain defeats for us.

Great and sacrificial mother! You denied yourself clothes for your back and shoes for your feet that we might have the priceless boon of education. We know that God loves because you love us so. We know the meaning of Christ's sacrifice because you sacrificed for us. We know that heaven thinks of us because you do. Today we are men grown, but we go back to that yesterday and there in the old summer house we sit with you and while you look the other way we kiss your sanctified cheek and pin a rose on you. We owe you so much.

And in these times you are the great heroic mother. You are giving your sons to fight for God and Country in a holy war. Yes, General Pershing is brave. The American and British and French boys weltering in the blood and slime of the trenches are brave, unspeakably brave, but you, the mother, walking up the Mt. Moriah of 1918, and like Abraham, offering your only son, are brave and gritty and Christlike. You are not a martyr. You are more. You are mother. And standing beside you and feeling the beat of your gracious soul, we know that liberty will not perish, but triumph through the Heavenly Host.

And that boy of yours enduring so much in France and Flanders takes fresh courage when he knows that a mother on the Pacific Coast is praying, thinking, loving him.

AUTO-BIOGRAPHY OF AUTO WITH CHURCH HABIT

The following "autograph" is from the Plymouth Bulletin:

"No, I'm not a Ford. I'm a big, red auto, and if I had my way, every car would be red. It is such an inviting color, and, when I speed up, and go through the country like a streak, there is nothing sombre about me. An auto should suggest the power and joyous abandon of life, anyway. I'm a high-powered car, of classy model and paid for without a mortgage, and what's more, I go to church regularly, as every decent, self-respecting car should.

"I didn't always go, but I've reformed. When my owner first got me, he could hardly wait until Sunday came. He was up at six, tuning me up, and getting ready for a run in the country, for fishing, golf, or a picnic. He generally invited some other church members, and I'm not saying it did them much harm; yet the day's pleasure always ended with a question mark—was that really the best use to which I could be put on the best day of the week?

"Coming home one Sunday from a trip, I was caught in a rainstorm, without chains. I skidded on the country road (I didn't mean to), and slipped over a bank, and pitched the whole party out. Fortunately, none was hurt, but my owner was badly shaken. He was quite sober, and his only remark on the way home was, 'thankful I didn't break my fool neck.'

"Next Sunday he surprised me by going to church. The service must have gripped him, for I heard him say to the Missus: 'We've missed a whole lot recently, haven't we?'

"Now, every Sunday I go to church loaded, picking up tired women and children, taking old people home from service, and shut-ins out for a ride in the afternoon, if the weather is pleasant.

"I'm having the time of my life, and have begun to believe that even an auto can have 'a conscience void of offense toward God and men.'"

The White Carnation

The second Sunday in May is annually set aside to honor motherhood in a special manner. The emblem for the occasion is the white carnation. No sweeter or more appropriate flower could be selected for the purpose. It denotes purity, beauty and, through its fragrance, love. Mother love has all these beautiful qualities and many more. It is the synonym for purity, fragrance, grace, gentleness, faithfulness and all that is noble.

Wear the little memento that recalls the fragrant memories of the best mother who ever lived—the mother of your heart, the mother who watched so tenderly over you, sharing your sorrows and comforting you in your disappointment.

We are not only to cherish the memory of those gone before but, by our loving words and deeds, brighten the lives of the mothers that remain with us, and whose hearts are bearing the heaviest burdens of the war.

The poem, "A Mother's Prayer," written for The TRIBUNE by Evelyn Buechner, gives us a glimpse of the love that glows in every mother-heart:

A MOTHER'S PRAYER.

The moment came; I prayed for strength to smile,
To hide the blinding tears he must not see,
Nor know the aching in my throat the while.
I said "Goodbye; God send you back to me."
And now he's gone, my boy, my soldier lad;
Gone from my care, across the trackless sea.
Oh, Father! keep him strong, and brave, and glad,
And send him, God, oh! send him back to me.

EVELYN BUECHNER.

FIRST UNITARIAN.

Dr. Ulysses G. B. Pierce of Washington, D. C., will preach in the First Unitarian church Sunday, at 8 o'clock p. m. Dr. Pierce came into national prominence during the administration of William Howard Taft as the president's minister. He is a forceful and interesting speaker, and coming from the nation's capital will doubtless have much to say of interest to the general public. All are cordially invited.

The minister of the church, William Day Simonds, announces the following important change of program. In obedience to Governor Stephens' proclamation, next Sunday will be observed at the Unitarian church as Mothers' Day, and Dr. Simonds will speak at 11 a. m. on "The Poetry of Motherhood."

DANIEL AND WORLD WAR.

Dr. William Frederick Bade of the Pacific School of Religion, delivered a sermon last Sunday evening at the Olivet Congregational Church, showing that [illegible] war, that the Book of Daniel does not contain predictions but a history of events from the Babylonian exile to the time of Antiochus Epippanes, 175-164 B. C.

Dr. Bade considers it especially deplorable to abuse the book of Daniel by making it the basis of pessimistic philosophy and fanatical alarms at this time, when the world needs all the positive hope and help that Christians can give to their fellow men.

Y. W. C. A.

Sunday afternoons from 3 to 4 o'clock will be devoted for the next few weeks at the Y. W. C. A. to the study of prophetic scriptures. Tomorrow Rev. Frank M. Silsley will speak on "The Rulers of Today and the Fulfillment of Prophecy."

Mothers' and Flag Day Tomorrow at German M. E.

The Salem German Methodist Episcopal church, at Twenty-third avenue and East Seventeenth street, will observe Mother's Day tomorrow. The pastor, Rev. J. Schneider, will preach, taking for his subject, "To Dear Mother," a quotation from the address on a little present from Herman Michels, one of the boys "over there," to his mother, a member of this congregation.

In the evening Epworth League Rally Day will be observed and a service flag with twelve stars will be dedicated, representing the following named:

Emanuel Schaechterle, Herman Michels, Charles Dietrich, Alfred Newhardt, Louis Anderson, Henry Behrens, Herman Reichardt, Karl Quinlan, Henry Deworah, Christian Clausen, John Beck, Arthur Zimmer.

A collection will be taken for the War Council of the Methodist Episcopal church. The church only has seventy members, many of them widows, but is near 100 per cent in Third Liberty Loan Bonds, everyone buying them that possibly could.

The church has also given, through its members, over $25.00 for the Red Cross.

This church is not a German institution, but an American church, doing missionary work among the German people. It is not an independent organization, but is under the same bishop and management as other Methodist Episcopal churches, being a part of that organization.

Rev. J. Schneider has preached in California for over thirty years, half of that time in pastorates in the bay district. He was for years pastor of the First German church, at Thirty-eighth and Telegraph, where Rev. L. Hollman now ministers, and vouches for the perfect loyalty of that congregation also.

The preaching in German is a temporary expedient that "each man may hear in his own language wherein he was born." When these German people have become acquainted with our language they naturally graduate into English-speaking churches.

QUARTERLY MISSIONARY MEETING.

On Thursday, May 16, in the First Baptist church, San Francisco, the Bay Quarterly will meet at 10:30 in the morning, and closing at 4 in the afternoon. The annual reports will be given at this meeting. The day will be full of inspiration, with good speakers.

A nursery will be open, so that all mothers can bring their children and stay [illegible] noon hour in the church. It is hoped for a large attendance of the women from the churches around the bay.

MOTHERS' DAY

In answer to the appeal of Congress, the First Christian Church is going to do its part next Sunday to bring to the minds of those present the true significance of Mothers' Day.

"Mrs. Zebedee and Her Two Big Boys" is the subject of the special "Mothers' Day" sermon announced by the pastor, Rev. H. A. Van Winkle.

Seventy-five young men in uniform have been invited to be guests of the church for the day, and will be entertained in the homes of the members. Carnations will be given to the mothers present as a token of love for those who, through service and sacrifice, have rendered untold benefits to the church and our country.

At the evening service the pastor begins a sermon series on the general theme: "Books You Have Read," the sermon for Sunday night being on the subject: "In His Steps," founded on Charles M. Sheldon's book by that title. The two following Sunday nights the sermons will be on the themes, "When a Man's a Man," and "An Uncrowned King," respectively. These sermons will be based on two of Harold Bell Wright's books.

Members of the church entertaining soldiers and sailors, tomorrow are expected to bring the boys back to the church in time for the senior C. E. meeting at 6:45 p. m., which is especially for them and by them. There will be two leaders—W. R. Gier, a sailor from Mare Island, and Paul Carrington, of the Aviation School at Berkeley. The subject will be a special one for the occasion: "Self-Help and Helping Others," from Galatians 6:1-8.

The annual meeting of the C. W. B. M. will be held next Tuesday night at 8:15. Every member of the society is urged to be present and bring her husband or a friend. A good program is being prepared and a social hour will follow. Each member of the society is counted on to help keep up the standard of the May meetings. Mrs. Russell Lowry is president, Mrs. Herbert Eaton, secretary.

FRANCIS DE SALES.

The mass sung at St. Francis de Sales church at 10:30 will be F. Battmann's Mass in F. At the 12 o'clock mass Miss Virginia Gensoul will sing Millard's "Ave Maria" in E. flat, and the organist, Gerard Taillandier, will play Mendelssohn's "Song Without Words" No. 18, arranged by L. B. Whitney. Offertory by Theo Salome, "Berceuse," by Godard, and "Postlude in D," by Henry Smart.

ALLEGED DRUG RING COUPLE OUT ON BOND

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—Two persons have been arrested, warrants are out for four others, and drugs valued at $25,000 have been seized, as a result of federal investigation of an alleged international drug ring which is said to have cleaned up in excess of $100,000 in the past few months.

The couple under arrest are J. D. Davis, egg and butter dealer, 1363 Greenwich street, and his wife. Those sought include: Joseph Kubey, Honolulu, alleged directing head of the ring; Nathan, John and Abraham Scharlin, clothing merchants, 937 Grant avenue. The drugs were found in the basement of the Davis store by government agents yesterday.

The ring is alleged to have started operations in September, 1916. Since then twenty-five shipments, according to government agents, have been made to various parts of the United States and the Orient. The drugs are said to have been concealed in trunks and suit cases and shipped as personal baggage. The baggage consignees were found to be fictitious concerns, and it is alleged the baggage was taken charge of by Kuebey.

The government is now after agents of the ring said to be using Mexico as an operating base. Davis and his wife were released on bonds in the sum of $5,000.

Baptist Church to Hold Service In Honor of Lieutenant Beach

Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock there will be memorial services at the First Baptist Church of Oakland, Telegraph avenue and Jones street, in honor of Lieutenant Egbert W. Beach, who gave his life in the service of his country on April 27 on the battlefield in France. The family of the young man are all members of this church and Lieutenant Beach received his religious education as a boy in the First Baptist Sunday-school, and at the time of his departure was a most efficient and faithful worker in the teaching force of the Sunday-school. He was the first of the boys to enlist in the service of his country, and in a remarkably short time after his enlistment was commissioned first lieutenant and sent across to France. The sympathy of the entire church go out to his parents and sisters in their hour of bereavement.

A body of military men will be in attendance at this service. By a strange coincidence, Dr. E. R. Pope, who is occupying the pulpit for the day, is a relative of the young man, being a cousin of his mother.

Following this service, the "Mother's Day" service will be held. Dr. Pope will take for his subject, "The True Heroine." Lee Griswold Sharpe, tenor, will sing "Mother O' Mine." In the evening, Dr. Pope will speak on "The Faith That Wins."

A cordial welcome is extended to everybody to be present at all of these services, and also those of the young people's societies and the Bible School.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

At the First Presbyterian Church, Oakland's Temple Beautiful, Rev. Frank M. Silsley will, by request, preach Sunday evening on "America's Prophet-President and Christian Civilization." He will discuss what the true American ideal is and what this great American endured to give this ideal expression in the republic. He will also discuss the victory of truth over the traitor spirit of Benedict Arnold. He will answer the question in course of the sermon: "What is the religion of the mother of the Prophet-President"—a Mothers' Day reflection? "What do you think of the statement that Germany has won the war to date?" "What shall be done to the Benedict Arnolds of 1918?" "What is the ultimatum to the Kaiser?" "Should Roosevelt be given a Cabinet position?"

Yeomen Carroll Duaine Smith, tenor, and Rupert Henry Rooke, baritone, will sing a duet entitled "Hark! Hark! My Soul," by Harry Rowe Shelly. The Temple Chorus will sing, "Oh, for a Closer Walk with God," by Foster B. Myles. There will be a ten-minute patriotic song service at the beginning of the evening service. Clarence Eddy, world-famed organist, will give an attractive organ recital.

At the morning service Mothers' Day will be observed with a special sermon by Dr. Silsley on "Christ and American Mothers." This will be a recognition service for all mothers who have sons or daughters in the service and all other mothers. In this sermon he will speak of Christ's great tribute to a good mother and the traits that glorify her.

The Temple Quartet and Chorus will sing, "He Shall Come Down Like Rain," by Dudley Buck. There will also be a duet, soprano and tenor, entitled "Love Divine, All Love Excelling,' from "The Daughter of Jairus." All worshipers are urged to wear white or red carnations in honor of the mothers.

WAR WORKERS WANTED.

The American Red Cross has asked the Federal Council of Church for six additional chaplains. Twelve men whose names were supplied by the council are already in active service. To be eligible for this work chaplains must be between 40 and 50 years of age and must have names that do not even sound like German. Further, all candidates must show proof that neither they nor their fathers or grandfathers were born in a country with which the United States is at war. These chaplains are given an allowance for expenses, but their salaries are to be provided by congregations or friends, without expense to the government.

Loyal, able-bodied men above draft age, though not fitted to be chaplains or Y. M. C. A. secretaries, are needed for various types of work, both at home and over seas.

Premier Clemenceau and General Petain have cabled the New York office of the Y. M. C. A. for 1000 capable association workers to take charge of the French association in camp.

General Pershing has turned over to the Y. M. C. A. the entire canteen work for the American army in France, thereby releasing enlisted men for active service.

CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE.

The state conference of the Congregational church in California, during its three days session in Berkeley, transacted varied and extensive business. One of the most striking features of the session was the inauguration of a plan to have every congregation in the United States visited on the same day, the date selected for the visit being December 8, 1918. Sixty thousand "visitors" will be appointed and every home in the multitudinous congregational parishes throughout the United States will be visited and the financial, educational, missionary and evangelistic program of the denomination be presented, looking to 1920, the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

The working out of the plans will be left to the conferences of the various states, but the sum total of results will show what a great church can accomplish with its members thoroughly aroused and working in unison.

SABOTAGE AND PLOTS SHOWN IN I. W. W. TRIAL

CHICAGO, May 11.—By defeat of the aircraft program and the selective service act, together with the practice of sabotage in the trenches in France and the factories at home, it was hoped by the Industrial Workers of the World to crumble America's war plans, according to evidence presented by the government in the seditious conspiracy trial of the I. W. W. leaders.

The mass of documentary evidence characterized conscription as a challenge to the workingman, advocated spiking of guns and spoiling of powder and termed the uniform of the soldier 'the livery of the scab herder.'

"Why not ask the lumberjack?" was the heading of an article in an official organ of August 8, 1917, in which authorities were quoted as saying the nation's aircraft program would be delayed a year unless a strike in the Northwest lumber districts was settled in two weeks. "This is an open admission that we have tied up the program," said the article. "I belong to the I. W. W. because I am patriotic," read one of the alleged anti-war documents, "Patriotism does not mean murder, but war does. I am too patriotic to enlist."

Various means of breaking down the military machine by a campaign of destruction and the teaching of discontent were referred to in some of the matter placed on record.

"The patriotic I. W. W. member does not salute the flag. He slows down production by practicing sabotage. He proves his loyalty by intelligent rebellion."

Evidence was introduced to show that authorized articles published April 7, 1917, described Americans who were taken prisoner when the commerce raider sunk the Esmeralda as "Bowery cowpunchers, recruited from Blackwell's Island Workhouse."

"Our American heroes taken to Germany as prisoners of war were compelled, mind you, to bathe once a week and eat frankfurters and sauerkraut instead of 'coffee and.'"

"President Wilson has proclaimed a state of war," an announcement three weeks later state. "Conscription may be passed by Congress. * * * Don't fight the bosses' battles; join the I. W. W. and fight your own."

AUXILIARY PLANS DANCE.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the International Association of Machinists will give their first annual dance Saturday evening, May 18, in Corinthian Hall, Pacific Building.

SERMONETTES

"God so loved the world" when it was just as bad as now; let us not lose faith, not stop our loving—even our enemies.

Pray today for victory—victory over at the Front, victory here at home through sacrifice, victory in our own hearts. "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even your faith."—Dr. Van Horn.

It has been said of A. McLean "He lives in all lands. The sun never sets, upon the domain of his prayer nor the throbbing centers of spiritual life he has inspired."

Rev. J. E. Pounds says of churches: "We must teach or tarnish, preach or perish."

One article in the incorporation papers of one congregation reads: "The object, business and pursuit of this is to support, maintain and extend the gospel of Christ here and unto all people in our possibilities."

Lyman Beecher said, when asked the secret of his success as pastor of the Park Street Church, Boston: "I preach on Sunday, but I have 450 members who take up my message on Monday and preach it wherever they go."

The negative idea of religion has done much harm. The man out of whom the unclean spirit went, was not saved. He was empty, neither good nor bad. His emptiness was a positive temptation to the evil spirit, for as soon as he discovered that his former tenement was "empty, swept and garnished, he taketh with himself seven other spirits more evil than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man becometh worse than the first."—(Matt. 12:44.) The obvious lesson is "Get busy."

The morning session will be largely devoted to an address by Dr. G. W. Brewster, state secretary, and to addresses by representatives of the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor interests. The Christian Woman's Missionary Society will have charge of the afternoon session and the chief speaker will be Mrs. Dr. Ada Gordon, from Indiana.

Jewelry Tax to Aid War Meets Protest

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 11.—Protests against classing all articles of jewelry as luxury and taxing them as such were made at the annual meeting of the National Wholesale Jewelers' Association. It was declared in a paper prepared by Noble R. Fuller of Kansas City, that many articles of jewelry are essential and should not be classed as luxuries.

T. R. EXPLAINS CHARGES OF FAVORITISM

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Theodore Roosevelt made public last night what he termed "a brief preliminary statement" in reply to the request of Postmaster General Burleson that he prove statements he had made in an editorial to the effect that favoritism had been shown in the treatment of publications under the espionage act.

Roosevelt mentioned specifically the New York Tribune, Collier's Weekly and the Metropolitan Magazine as publications which have been assailed by George Creel of the committee on public information, while others which "directly or indirectly aided Germany," have not been subjected to government criticism. In the latter category he included the publications owned by William R. Hearst.

"The prime failure of the administration to proceed against papers which opposed the war or attacked our allies or directly or indirectly aided Germany is afforded by the failure of the administration to deal with Mr. Hearst's papers as it dealt with certain other papers," said the statement.

MENTIONS PUBLICATIONS.

Referring to the Tribune, Collier's and the Metropolitan, the colonel asserted that they have "consistently upheld the war" and have also "told that small portion of the truth it was absolutely necessary to tell about the administration's failure to conduct the war efficiently."

He said that Creel "officially speaking as President Wilson's representative and as giving a message from the United States government to the American people," had attacked Collier's and "he has also attacked the Metropolitan and the New York Tribune."

He said neither the postmaster general nor the postoffice department has made any attempt to "remedy the wrong it did" in the case of the Metropolitan.

Colonel Roosevelt termed Mr. Hearst "a very wealthy man, reputed to be much more than a millionaire, owning a dozen newspapers, more or less, and a half-dozen magazines in different parts of the country."

HIS CHARGE.

"At the very beginning of the war," he said, "the government proceeded successfully against Tom Watson's publication in Georgia. Yet Tom Watson had done nothing that was anything like as dangerous to this country and our allies and as helpful to Germany as Mr. Hearst has done."

To support his contention he quoted from editorials in the Hearst newspapers.

The colonel declared it is absolutely impossible to reconcile the government's action in proceeding against Tom Watson's paper with its failure to proceed against Mr. Hearst's papers "on any theory that justice was to be done alike to the strong and the weak."

Roosevelt said he would answer the Postmaster General "completely and at length in a letter to some Senator so as to have it appear permanently in the records precisely as Mr. Burleson's statement appears."

ALAMEDA SCHOOLS ARE WAR WORKERS

That the schools of Alameda have been mobilized into centers of war industry is the statement of County School Superintendent Frick after a day spent on a trip of inspection with City Superintendent C. J. DuFour.

"In addition to buying over $18,000 worth of Liberty bonds and thrift stamps and universally joining the Red Cross, the pupils have gone to work with a vim to actually manufacture great quantities of material needed by the army," says Superintendent Frick. "The manual training department makes nothing but canes, stretchers and other articles for the army. The domestic science department has been working on food conservation recipes and doing a great deal of good. In the high school the teachers have volunteered to do 600 hours of night work transcribing war records for the draft board. Daily a class goes to the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation for instruction in ship fitting and riveting.

"Virtually every child has a war garden at home, and when I talk to them their eyes shine with eagerness for the work that means so much to them and the nation."

Gerard Film Held by T. & D. Until Tuesday

Aroused by the truths revealed in Ambassador Gerard's sensational expose of Prussianism, unprecedented crowds have been clamoring for admission to the T. and D. theater this week, where "My Four Years in Germany" is being shown. To accommodate the crowds the Gerard picture will be continued until next Tuesday, when it will be shown for the last time in Oakland.

"My Four Years in Germany" needs little word embellishment. It has aroused east bay cities to the menace of Prussianism as no other war film has done. It brings home to Americans the real duplicity, deceit, debauchery and ruthlessness of the Hun as our enemy was never pictured before.

Yesterday veterans of the G. A. R. were guests of the T. and D. management. To see these gray-haired, bent, old men leaving the theater, declaring they wished they were fifty years youngr, was to witness a sight that told more forcibly than words just what effect "My Four Years in Germany" had had on them.

ALLIED POSITION STRONGER.

Allied affairs on the battlefield of France and Belgium appear to be in a more favorable situation at the end of the seventh week of the German offensive than at any other period since Hindenburg started his pretentious drive. The lines have shown during the last week a stability that signifies that the reserves have been properly distributed and all other possible measures taken to stop the enemy.

Each day strengthens the Allied lines and adds to their capacity to strike back. The losses of guns, ammunitions and other supplies which were sustained in front of Cambrai during the first thrust of the enemy last March have long ago been made good by the productive resources of France and England. The casualties which the French and English armies suffered have been more than discounted by the arrivals of American troops in Europe and the speeding up of activities at home. The Allied forces are measurably stronger today than they were on March 21 and the German armies are inevitably weaker.

The enemy's resources and resourcefulness should not be underestimated, however. He is capable of other hard blows, and possibly of making some further progress. But Hindenburg, already a month and a half behind his program to dine in Paris, will be doomed to still further disappointments.

BOTTLING UP THE U-BOATS.

Only two weeks after the successful raid on the German submarine base of Zeebrugge—and Germany has admitted that it was successful—the English navy came back with exactly the same sort of blow at Ostend, another important U-boat rendezvous. The British government now announces that the plan to block these two enemy ports has been successfully concluded.

This project was conceived in remarkable daring and that initiative which is one of the cherished traditions of the English as well as the American navy. The situation at Zeebrugge was particularly hard to deal with. In addition to sending three or four ships into the entrance—four went in and three remained as sunken concrete-filled bulkheads in the narrow channel—it was necessary to make a landing and drive a strong enemy force from the mole running to the channel entrance. Heavy casualties were sustained, but the object was attained.

Now, while the German "grand command" was feeling itself, so to speak, and considering the retirement of Admiral Von Schroder, in charge of the Zeebrugge defenses, the British have returned and corked up Ostend. This last enterprise was no less surprising than was the first. Such resourcefulness and dash is disconcerting to the Boche, and it will be interesting to note who is made the scapegoat for the latest reverse.

The Allied offensive tactics against the submarine are extending, which bodes well for success in overcoming this form of German piracy and murder.

GOOD YEAR FOR FARMER.

On the basis of the Department of Agriculture reports of crop conditions on May 1 there is good prospect of a 900,000,000 bushel wheat crop for the year. This is a large increase over last year and greater than any yield of the last three years. It promises an easier food situation throughout the world, although not nearly enough to meet all the demands and to cause a reduction in prices except through government regulation. Our Allies will be short on wheat and flour until the fall, and they would then take three times as much as the United States will produce for export if they could get it.

Having already discussed the gratifying effect a bumper wheat crop will have on the people of the Allied and neutral countries, one may now momentarily turn to the brighter prospect of the American farmer. Wheat having been pegged at $2.20 a bushel for 1918, 900,000,000 bushels will mean $1,980,000,000 for the producers. A pretty fair item in the farmers' income! Then there is the barley, rye and oats, beans and potatoes, corn and rice—wheat substitutes and food staples—the prices of which are not regulated by the government. Pork $15 per hundred and record prices for beef, mutton and lamb, poultry, eggs and butter, hay and fodder.

It promises to be a good year for the farmer, and if he kicks and growls it must be borne in mind that the farmer must kick and growl in order to keep his health, and the politicans must picture him as the most abused person on earth in order to qualify for his vote.

Attorney-General Lewis of New York has rendered the country valuable service in reconstructing the secret code of former Ambassador Von Bernstorff. Transactions of Von Bernstorff through this medium have already resulted in the execution of Bolo Pasha as a spy, of the arrest on treason charges of Senator Humbert of France and a group of defeatist and pro-Germans connected with the Paris journal called Bonnet Rouge, the dismissal of Von Luxburg from the capital of Argentina and the overthrow of one Swedish government. A former premier of France, Joseph Caillaux, is awaiting trial on a treason charge. The trail of the German diplomatic criminals will be further lighted by Bernstorff's secret telegraph code, and in it may be found many individuals who long have been masking anti-American and anti-Ally efforts with hypocritical flag-waving and eagle-screaming.

California will furnish 19,846 for the second draft of 800,000, the call for which was issued yesterday by the Provost Marshal General. As this State already has furnished over 100,000 men under the first draft calls and by voluntary enlistments in the various branches of the service, there will be by the spring of 1919 probably 150,000 Californians in the land and naval forces. This will keep the State near the top of the list both in actual number of men with the colors and in proportion to the total population. When the second draft is completed the nation will have mobilized approximately 3,000,000 men in the army and 450,000 in the navy. California will have supplied about 5 per cent of the total.

The United States Supreme Court has held that a man enrolled under the selective draft law may be sent to France for military duty, thereby disposing of the final attack on the constitutionality of the draft law. But there are still persons either so vicious or so weak mentally as to hold that it would be preferable to defend the country against an outlaw enemy nation on the soil of America than on the soil of France and Belgium.

Under the policy of "no annexations, no indemnities," promulgated by the German and Austrian governments four months ago, Rumania has been compelled to sign a treaty of peace ceding to Bulgaria territory south of the Danube river, known as the Dobrudja and the richest wheat district in Europe, and to "rectify" the Austro-Rumanian frontier in favor of Austria.

NOTES and COMMENT

"Bolsheviki fight anarchists." This is a more exact definition of the homely saying, "Dog eat dog" than the dictionaries have been able to give.

In New York it seems that Turkish baths have been utilized by draft dodgers as a refuge. One who could do the continuous thing in Turkish baths must have stamina that would be valuable on the battle front, and an endurance that is akin to bravery. The wonder is that any such should not follow the line of least resistance and enlist.

The despatches of Thursday seemed to indicate that serious things had been made to stand out against the British premier, but those of Friday indicated that it was only a cabal against him, which was instantly vanquished when he was given opportunity to enter a defense.

So far American troops are proving their effectiveness on the firing line, and the Hun is entitled to all the pleasure they are able to extract from contemplating the prospect of their arriving steadily in increasing numbers from now on.

* * *

"Teutons forced to use American money." The only thing about that is the error. The word "forced" has been interpolated in some manner. Any people anywhere under any circumstances who have to be forced to use American money are as yet undiscovered. The Hun may hate us, but he loves our money.

* * *

If it is true as stated in commercial columns that the country's production of wheat is to be greatly increased this year it suggests patriotism among the farmers. Because of the price limit set by the Federal Government, wheat will yield only a reasonable profit.

A wife in a sanitarium seems to be considered a fetching excuse for the highwayman to get busy. The Oakland instance is the second that has recently come to attention. It seems to be a new way of using the female skirt as a screen.

The Imperial German Government is in a way to try its methods on some of its own people in charging twelve Dresden Socialists with treason. It may be that the ruthlessness that has horrified the rest of the world is in a way to be brought home. Dresden is in Bavaria, and Bavarians are not Prussians.

* * *

The man who is trusted to see that food laws are enforced, to the end that soldiers fighting for the country may be certainly fed and that allied peoples may not starve, and who deliberately betrays his trust, even seeking to betray it, for financial gain, is in a criminal category difficult to designate—difficult because of language limitations. There ought to be a word that would differentiate him in an acute way, but there does not seem to be.

The point seems to be well taken that it is more informing to name railroad trains than to assign them numbers. Everybody gets the idea at once when you say you are going on the Owl train, but if you say you are going on No. 86, or whatever it is to be known by under Secretary McAdoo's orders, they will simply blink and wait for further information.

* * *

The fear that the excesses of the lawless will produce a reaction on democracy, being laid to its door, is not well founded. Bolshevikism, Independent Workers of the Worldism or any of the other manifestations of anarchy, could have had no inception in real democracy. It does not need the strong hand of imperialism to put them under. It only needs the watchfulness of the patriotic masses and prompt legal action when the time for action comes.

FLOWER FOR MOTHER

A white carnation, a little flower,
Plucked from the garden for a memory;
To pause for a moment, maybe an hour,
To remember my mother's love for me

To recall the pain and the tender care,
The heart-throbs and the joy she had
When I was her baby, her dream and prayer,
Her hero, her own little lad.

A white carnation, just a bloom to show
I am thinking of her today;
Near her or distant, I know she will know
Everything my heart wants to say.

A white carnation for a memory,
A banner of honor to show
The world that the love she has given me
Is the greatest wealth I shall know.

THE BOY WHO FIGHTS FOR MOTHER

Written by Fred Emerson Brooks, the California Poet, for the Y. M. C. A.

On the lips of each flower is a kiss and a prayer
From the mothers of men to their boys everywhere;
'Tis the love of all mothers to each valiant son
Who has sworn to turn back the red scourge of the Hun.
Though the blossom may wither, the love still endures—
In the land of the free every mother is yours.
Man honors the brave as he honors no other,
And God loves the boy who will fight for his mother.

WAS GERMANY ATTACKED BY ENGLAND?

By HARRY PRATT JUDSON,
President of the University of Chicago.

One of the most industriously repeated and fantastic of the German international falsehoods is the claim that England is responsible for the present world war; that England deliberately brought it about in order to break down German commercial competition.

This involves an assertion of fact and an assertion of motive.

Did England ever show any desire to hamper German trade in her own empire? In England itself, and wherever the authority of crown and parliament extended, the English and German merchant were on exactly even terms. Could Germany say as much?

Would it have been worth while for England to destroy the prosperity of one of her best customers? The total foreign trade of the United Kingdom in 1913, imports and exports, was £1,005,000,000, or approximately $5,000,000,000. The total trade of the United Kingdom with the United States was £203,000,000, or approximately $1,000,000,000; with Germany £110,000,000, or upward of $500,000,000; and with the Netherlands £72,000,000. Thus Germany was the largest foreign customer of Great Britain excepting only the United States.

German trade, too, was far from outstripping British. In the period from 1901 to 1913 American imports from Germany increased 88 per cent, and from the United Kingdom 106 per cent.

So much for the alleged motive.

Then there is the simple question of fact. Did England bring on the war? The answer may be found in the German and Austro-Hungarian papers, published by the two governments for their own justification. These papers do not contain all the facts, but it can easily be guessed that the omissions did not militate against the Central Powers. However, from a study of these papers alone it is quite clear that the British foreign office did everything in its power to have the Serbian dispute settled without war. It is equally clear that the Central Powers were equally determined that there should be war:

1. The ultimatum to Serbia by its terms must be accepted in its entirety or war would follow.

2. If Serbia accepted the demands in their entirety she lost her independence and became virtually a vassal state of Austria-Hungary.

3. Either result at once made the dual monarchy master of the Balkans.

4. Russia had long since given up attempts to dominate in the Balkans herself, but at the same time both sentiment and national security dictated strenuous opposition to Austrian control.

5. Russia therefore insisted on the preservation of Serbian independence, while guaranteeing full justice to Austria on the immediate matter in dispute.

6. Germany would consent to nothing but that Austria-Hungary should have a free hand in Serbia.

7. When the dual monarchy at last shrank from a general war and expressed readiness to confer with Russia, Germany suddenly precipitated hostilities by a wanton ultimatum to Russia which made war inevitable.

All these facts appear plainly from the diplomatic correspondence published by the Central Powers.

There are other circumstances in abundance to be added to these, but these are enough.

If Austria-Hungary had been allowed to crush Serbia and thus to reverse the results of the Balkan wars of 1912 and 1913, there would have been no general European war in 1914.

If France had accepted the insulting demands of Germany not to come to the aid of the French ally, and to yield her fortresses as a guaranty of French neutrality, there would have been no general European war in 1914.

If Great Britain had disregarded her treaty obligations to Belgium and kept a shameful neutrality, there would have been no general European war in 1914.

In short, the non-Germanic powers had the choice between submitting one by one to Prussian arrogance, as suited Prussian convenience, or of standing together for the freedom of Europe—and of the world.

The war was forced on the world by the Central Powers. Every one of the nations now arrayed against those powers tried in vain to secure a peaceable settlement. It is preposterous, in the light of established and well-known facts, to assert that England brought on the war, or that the Central Powers were attacked at all, or by anyone.

VOLUME LXXXIX. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 11, 1918. NO. 80.

LOCAL RATE RAISES DEAD FOR PRESENT

Withdrawal by the Southern Pacific Company of its application to the State Railroad Commission for an increase in trans-bay rates may force the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways to seek an indefinite postponement of the hearing on its like application, or to withdraw the application altogether. This was the view of attorneys representing the east bay cities today, following the order of Director General of Railroads McAdoo that the suburban lines of the Southern Pacific Company are under federal jurisdiction.

Attorney Squires, counsel for the Southern Pacific, stated today that the company will go before the State Railroad Commission when the case is called, May 21, and withdraw its application for permission to increase trans-bay suburban rates. At the same time the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways will be expected to signify what disposition it wishes to make of the similar application made in behalf of the Key Route system.

POSITION DIFFICULT.

Officials of the S. F. O. T. were unwilling to discuss the situation today, stating that a conference would have to be had with counsel for the company and the head officials before a decision could be reached. But attorneys for the east bay cities pointed out that the ruling of John Barton Payne, counsel for McAdoo, that the suburban lines of the Southern Pacific are under federal and not California state commission jurisdiction, has placed the Key System in a difficult position.

"In the event that the Key Route cases go to a final decision before the State Railroad Commission," said City Attorney A. F. St. Sure of Alameda, "and in the event that the commission should determine that the Key Route is entitled to a raise in rates, an anomalous situation would be presented. Under this, the Key Route would get what it sought, a raise in rates, only to find the cream of the business taken from it by the Southern Pacific because of the lower rates charged by the government controlled Southern Pacific.

MAY POSTPONE CASE.

"The situation is one which might induce the attorneys for the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways either to ask for an indefinite postponement of the hearing until the competing system should be placed back under State jurisdiction when the railroads are returned to private ownership, or for a dismissal of the cases altogether."

"Just what the government will do in its management of the ferries and suburban roads no one knows. Its power is supreme and it may cut our service or change rates at pleasure.

"At the last hearing before the Railroad Commission Alameda and Berkeley interposed an objection to further hearing of the Southern Pacific rate cases upon the ground that the Railroad Commission had been divested of jurisdiction by the act of Congress authorizing the government to take over the railroads of the country. The members of the Railroad Commission were in doubt, and President Thelen stated that the commission had been endeavoring to get a ruling from Washington upon the matter. So when our objection was interposed it was decided to postpone further hearing and request a ruling from Director General McAdoo. It would appear that the ruling has been received, and it will probably be followed by an order of the Railroad Commission dismissing the Southern Pacific cases."

At present there are three actions in which the Southern Pacific is involved before the Railroad Commission, and today Attorney Squires received instructions from Payne to go before the commission and move for the dismissal of the actions on the ground that the commission has no jurisdiction.

General Manager W. R. Alberger and President C. O. G. Miller of the Terminal Railways were out of the city today, and other representatives of the company declined to comment upon the situation. The two transportation companies had asked for increases on the ground that wages demanded by the men and higher costs of operation necessitated an increase in the fares charged. The government will now see that employees on these lines shall receive substantial increases, but whether this will work out in the government imposing a higher fare is not known.

Young Bank Robber Placed in Heavy Bail

LESTER E. BANKER

After Arranging Escape Berkeley Youth Gave Himself Up.

Lester E. Banker, former first lieutenant in the Fifty Infantry, N. G. C., who daringly robbed a College avenue branch bank of more than $2,000 last Thursday noon and then lost his nerve in trying to escape, will appear before Police Judge Mortimer Smith next Tuesday morning for preliminary examination on a charge of robbery. The complaint has been sworn to by Fred E. Parfitt, manager of the branch who was held up at the point of a revolver held by Banker.

Other than expressing himself as having been in a despondent and desperate condition of mind, the young robber has had very little to say to the police regarding his crime. The most remarkable feature of the case is the failure of the robber to effect his escape and cover up his trail when the way lay open for him. His carefully planned avenue of escape went awry when the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern train on which he expected to ride to the Thornhill station was delayed in leaving the station. He had miscalculated the time it would take him to hold up the bank and walk to the station to catch the train the instant it started to move. He was early and had taken a seat in the train when he became frightened over the delay. Then he got off, walked along the street, and when he saw Patrolman Jack Duke of the Northern station approaching in an auto he walked up to him and surrendered, turning over the stolen money.

Banker is held under $5,000 cash bail or $10,000 bonds. He was represented by Attorney Peter J. Crosby at arraignment this morning.

DUTCH FLEET SEEKS DOCKS IN OAKLAND

Oakland will probably be a terminal within a few months for one of the biggest Dutch steamer fleets in Oriental and tropical trade. Charles D. Dunann, official of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and western representative of the Van Ommeren Corporation, owners of a great fleet of Dutch boats trading in Java and other parts of the tropics, was in Oakland today, in conference with engineers and realty experts. It was intimated that he would seek a western waterfront lease of city property. Dunann stated that he could give out no details of the company's plans at the present time.

The Van Ommeren fleet of vessels, averaging 4500 tons, will be placed in Pacific ports within ninety days, according to the local representatives. New York will be made a port of call and the canal used to Holland. Java will be the objective of the ships.

IN DOUBT.

The heads of the Dutch corporation, of which William H. Scholz is managing director, have been reluctant about sending their vessels into American waters because of the possibility of their being commandeered by the government for use of the United States Shipping Board.

This difficulty has now been overcome, it is thought, Scholz having the positive assurance of Edward F. Perry of the Shipping Board that the vessels will not be commandeered, and Scholz is now en route to Rotterdam, where a conference with the board of directors will be held. Dunann was in Oakland yesterday looking over available sites on the waterfront as a Pacific coast terminal for the fleet.

No statement could be obtained from Dunann this morning as to whether a site satisfactory to his company had been selected, but well authenticated rumors indicate that a cablegram from Managing Director Scholz may be followed by an application to the City Council for a waterfront lease.

NO STATEMENT.

"It will be impossible at this time to make any definite statement and to name the vessels that may come to the Pacific," Dunann said. "After Mr Scholz has concluded his conference and cabled the result we will be able to give out something definite."

Scholz while in California a month ago secured both dock and warehouse facilities in Los Angeles for handling the transpacific freight of the Ph. van Ommeren Corporation, and it is believed that he was so confident of the success of his mission in Rotterdam that definite instructions were given Dunann to select a permanent terminal site on the Pacific coast in Oakland.

It is also said that the company is contemplating a line from the Dutch East Indies to Holland via the Panama canal, and it is indicated that the vessels will also be used in the bringing of wheat and wool from Australia to this port.

Mixed Jury Frees Woman of Murder

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—A mixed jury in the Superior Court, after a bitterly contested trial, found Mrs. Irene Fuselli, 21, not guilty of having murdered her husband, whom she shot and killed March 28. She pleaded self-defense.

The trial is said to be the first in California where women sat in a jury to try another woman on a murder charge. There were four women on the jury. They were Mrs. Margaret E. Moran, Mrs. W. H. Harrelson, Mrs. Pauline Pfaffler and Mrs. Mae Yocum. The defendant's mother testified that she had often heard the deceased threaten to kill his wife.

The defendant testified that after an all-night argument her husband picked up an ax and fearing that he meant to strike her, she reached for his revolver and shot him three times in the head.

EXTENSION OF CIVIL SERVICE URGED, FOUGHT

Proposed amendments to the city charter which would if adopted by the voters place all departments of the city government and all employees other than elected officials, under civil service, were approved at a meeting held by the civil service employees' association in the city hall last night. The caucus was undecided as to the inclusion of the chief of the police department and the chief of the fire department in the measure, and this will be considered at a later meeting.

There is strong opposition to the move from the members of the two departments, and also the civil service board has intimated that it would not approve of having the chiefs of the two important departments practically responsible to that body, mainly for political reasons.

VIEWPOINT OF BOARD.

The board takes the viewpoint that political intrigue involving either of the offices would continually be injecting itself into the affairs of the board.

Another important provision is that which provides that in the case of a temporary appointment to a permanent position, the civil service board must provide an eligible list for the position within eight months.

Also, it is the desire of the employees in the majority, to change conditions so that in event of discharge of an employee this be done by the board at the head of the department, subject to appeal to the civil service board. Also, that the only way a civil service employee could be ousted would be his resignation, conviction on charges, or unanimous vote of the board to the effect that the position be not necessary.

FOR CHARTER CHANGES.

Secretary J. W. McNiece was instructed to communicate with the Alameda County Bar Association and ask that body to make provision for the drawing up of a charter amendment which would make the office of city attorney an elective one. The incumbent under this plan would name his deputies subject to the approval of the council, but the office clerical force would be under civil service.

Mayor Davie, it has been rumored, already has a report from Efficiency Engineer Ralph A. Beebee which outlines ways and means for combining the park and playground departments under one and that to be directly included in the conduct of the department of public affairs dominated by the Mayor. Should this plan be laid before the council prior to the compiling of the new budget, it would materially affect the status of the two departments.

Pioneer California Woman Is Called

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Warfield, mother of Mrs. Marinda J. Rittenhouse, of this city. Mrs. Warfield passed away in Los Angeles, after a brief illness, Wednesday night.

Her surviving children are Mrs. Rittenhouse and Mrs. Albert Boswell of Los Angeles. Her grandchildren are Albert Dedric Boswell of Los Angeles, Mrs. Charles H. Newcastle of Berkeley, and Mrs. Harrie L. Wright and Barbara Ellen Wright.

Mrs. Warfield was a member of the well-known Martin family of Southern California, who came West from Ohio when she was a tiny child, in one of the great prairie schooner trains of the early days before railroads were built across the Rocky Mountains. She was prominently connected with a number of clubs and during her entire life was an active supporter of the Methodist Episcopal church. Funeral services were conducted in Los Angeles.

Wife Freed From "Arkansas Traveler"

Because her husband, Joseph Bourdil, neglected to shingle the roof to keep out the rain and refused to provide her with other than rabbit meat, Mrs. Julia A. Bourdil applied for a divorce, which has been granted by Judge J. O. Moncur. Mrs. Bourdil testified that her husband was another "Arkansas Traveler," refusing to shingle the roof when it was raining and declaring when it was sunny that they didn't need it. She said she ate rabbit meat till she dreamed of rabbits.

FLAG ESSAY WINNERS SELECTED NAMES TO BE TOLD TOMORROW

Winners of The TRIBUNE essay contest on "Why Keep the Flag Up," which has formed a focus of interest for school children in all portions of the city, have been selected by the judges, after going over several hundred essays submitted. The names and winning essays will be announced tororrow in the Sunday TRIBUNE. A silk banner will be given to each school in which the winners are registered, by The TRIBUNE management.

The contest was a part of the "Keep Up the Flag" campaign of the Oakland Rotary Club, inaugurated last week. High school students, those of the seventh and eighth grades, and elementary pupils, were permitted to contest. The essays were to be of 600-word length for the longest and 200-word length for the shortest essays.

All interested students contested. From the mass of essays the teachers in the various schools eliminated all but three of the best from each class. These were in turn weeded down to the thre best in the school and the final three submitted to the committee of judges and awards.

The judges who passed upon the merits of the barious essays and made the awards were: Louis Aber, school director; Sherwood Bird, Arthur Hargrave and W. F. D. Brown.

Hoover Scores War Profiteers
Food Example For Other Lines

CHAPTER V.

(In Chapter Four of this series Mr. Hoover told of the limit on exports; how all shipments are gauged by their military value, so as to conserve shipping space; he also pointed out how price fixing was really done through a centralized buying agency for the Allies rather than having all of them bidding against each other, thus forcing up prices to a prohibitive level.)

By HERBERT HOOVER.

I do not believe that any person in this United States has a right to make one cent more of profit out of any employment than he would have made under pre-war conditions: do not care whether this refers to the farmer, to the laborer, to the manufacturer, to the middleman or to the retailer; to me, every cent taken beyond this standard is money abstracted from the blood and sacrifice of the American people.

I do not believe that extortionate profits are necessary to secure the maximum effort on the part of the American people in this war. If we are going to adopt that theory, we have admitted everything that has been charged against us of being the most materialistic, the most avaricious, and the most venal of people in this world.

If we are going to admit that the government in order to secure the supreme effort of its citizens in production, must bribe them with money to this extra exertion, we have admitted a weakness of American character, of American civilization and of American ideals that puts us on a plane below German kultur.

IS NOT BENEFACTOR.

Do not mistake that I am saying that prices and wages should return to the pre-war normal, because the incidence of war before we joined in it had lifted our costs of operation, and there must be compensation in every direction. Nevertheless I hold that any man who has made more than his necessary living out of the cost this nation is giving in the blood of the boys we are sending to France should not stand out as a benefactor to his community.

I have had this statement met before now with the expression that it is dreamy idealism but I have found no individual who was prepared in his own instance to defend any such line of action.

It is true that this doctrine has been made law only to the larger food trades. I am confident that profiteering has, from a national point of view, disappeared in the regulated food trades, and in consequence my belief is that it should be applied generally to all business in this community, and it is also my belief that before we are finished with this war, that will have been done

GOES MUCH FURTHER.

To me, this goes much further than the mere case of the individual and the blame that may be attached to him. As I have seen this war develop from an active participation in its backwash and misery since its first day, I have seen growing out of the masses of people in every country aspirations for a great economic change. That change, broadly, will be that those who work with their hands will obtain a larger portion of this world's goods and those who work with their brains will obtain less. Those who do not work will probably obtain nothing.

If we are to bring about this economic change in an orderly and American way, and not by convulsions during the period of recuperation from the war, we must lay the foundations for it now. None of us wants a repetition in the United States of the history of the last twelve months of Russia. The proper social development of this country along these lines fills the background of all men's minds and its proper guidance rests upon the liberal and thinking men of the country.

AGAINST PROFITEERING.

The enforcement of this law against profiteering in the food trades is a considerable part of our anxieties. In order to determine how far we have succeeded—that is, how far the margin between the producer and consumer has been diminished—we maintain positive data in our organization.

We have calculated a price index based upon the food values of the principal commodities. For instance, a rise of a half a dollar a dozen in eggs would be a good headline, but it is not as important to the country as a rise of a cent a loaf in bread. Upon this basis we find that since the Food Administration was founded, the price of food commodities has increased 18 per cent to the producer and at the same time it has decreased 12 per cent to the consumer. The margin is thus smaller by 30 per cent—in fact, it is now so narrow that price charges to the producer directly reflect to the consumer, and the Food Administration has to take all of the curses of both sides.

SERVE ALL INTERESTS.

This has been accomplished largely by voluntary co-operation of the food trades. Ninety-five per cent of our traders desire to serve the common interest, and the measure of their co-operation is one of the most illuminating proofs of the high sense of service in our people. While isolated instances will occur I am convinced that at no time in the last three years has there been as little speculation and extortion in the nation's food as there is today.

Another economic theme which the Food Administration has had to pioneer is that of saving. Speaking broadly we have some thirty-six millions of able-bodied manhood. We have already had to divert two millions of these men to actual arms. Beyond this we have had to divert a vast number of men to provide munitions not only for ourselves but for the Allies. We have had to divert vast numbers of men to the provision of the raw materials for these shops. We have had to set aside larger amounts of our foodstuffs for the Allies, and consequently there was a diversion of farm production to this purpose.

OAKLAND WILL GIVE UP FOURTH

Oakland labor will sacrifice its holiday on the Fourth of July, the men working as on other days in every line of labor and turning the day's pay over to the Red Cross, if the plan proposed to Oakland's organized labor by W. E. Castro, organizer for the district of the American Federation of Labor, is adopted. The plan has already been unanimously approved by the Cooks' and Waiters' Union and several other locals and will come before the Central Labor Council Monday night. A "drive" will then be started among the unions of Oakland to make the move a general one.

"The boys in France will get no holiday on the Fourth," says Castro's appeal to the unions. "We over here will—but we ought at least to do as much for our country on its birthday as those boys do—give up our holiday. Let us all work as usual and turn the day's pay over to the Red Cross. It will serve two objects—roll up a nice lump sum for the Red Cross and the boys and at the same time show to the world that union labor is not seeking only to grab high wages, that the workers are behind the boys who are fighting; behind them with work and with dollars. We want this to be the biggest patriotic demonstration ever held."

Castro has sent the suggestion to the federation that the Fourth of July be made a general national working day for the Red Cross.

Tom Mix and Viola Dana At the American Tomorrow

TOM MIX, famous cowboy film star, and VIOLA DANA, youthful screen favorite, featured in a double bill at the American, commencing tomorrow matinee.

Charming, winsome Viola Dana in "Riders of the Night," and hearty, vigorous Tom Mix in "Western Blood" are the feature productions at the American commencing with the matinee tomorrow. As is usual at the American, the splendid accompaniments and overture by John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra will be given, and an Animated Weekly, containing front page news of current events.

"Riders of the Night" features a Kentucky story of thrills and romance. It is a real story of the sunny South, of the most human characters, and there is no feud. The story is one of breathless suspense and compelling force.

Popular Tom Mix, the new Fox star, in "Western Blood" has a sterling play of modern western life. It is full of real things, where big hearts do big things in love and work. Horsemanship and personal equation are the obvious conditions of the play.

Tonight's performances will conclude the present program of "Woman and the Law," based on the famous Jack De Saulle case.—Advertisement.

BENNY LEONARD IN GREAT SHAPE FOR TUESDAY BOUT HERE

PERCY AND FERDIE---Occasionally, Spuggy Does a Little Chauffeuring Himself - - By H. A. MacGILL

Creator of the Hall-Room Boys.

Title-Holder Shows Class in Transbay Win

Eastbay Fans to Add Big Fund to Over $20,000 Raised for Camps Last Night.

Benny Leonard will be in great shape for his four-round battle with Joe Miller at the Oakland Auditorium next Tuesday night when the two meet in the final event of the big boxing card planned by the War Camp Community Service workers of the eastbay district. Leonard stepped four rounds with Johnny McCarthy across the bay last night in a benefit show staged for the same purpose as the eastbay show, and even though Leonard was protected by the announcement that there would be no decision, thus assuring him that his world lightweight title would not be in danger, Benny could not have stepped much faster or tried much harder if his crown had been at stake.

Leonard showed everything that a champion should show and the east bay fans who turn out Tuesday night to see him box Joe Miller four rounds will see some of the greatest displays of speed, footwork and variety of punches that they have ever seen. Leonard can hit with either hand and although the reports of his eastern knockouts tell of a deadly right hand, that old left hand looked just about as deadly last night. In the third round he had McCarthy dazed to a point where he might have landed a finishing blow had he cared to, but this is the only brief instance in the four rounds when it could be said that the champion did not cut loose with all he had in him.

Joe Miller should put up a better battle with the champion than did McCarthy. Miller has been fighting in the northwest and is in the best of shape; McCarthy has been out of the ring for some time and did not appear to be in the best of shape. Also McCarthy fights along more cautious lines than does Miller, and Miller's gritty boring-in style should make a far better fight to watch than that of last night. For Leonard was about the only feature to the bout last night. McCarthy acted for two rounds like a stage-frightened boy, then he tried a little for the third round, but when Leonard slipped up a couple of lights that cracked McCarthy's teeth together, Johnny again took the cautious safety first policy and let Leonard do the work. Miller figures to give the fans far more aggressive work than McCarthy did last night.

Still another feature in favor of the east bay show should be the Ritchie-Barrieau battle booked for next Tuesday night. Willie Ritchie won from Frankie Jones all the way last night, but Ritchie had to do practically all of the fighting, for Jones seemed determined to take no chances. Tuesday night Frank Barrieau will fight Ritchie, and Frank can be counted on to do more in the way of carrying the fight to Ritchie than Jones did.

K. O. Kruvosky boosted his stock quite a bit for his battle next Tuesday with Bob McAllister by showing up Willie Meehan. Kruvosky had things about his own way in winning a decision over Meehan, who did not seem to have his usual pep. The boys who thought that Meehan would be missed from the eastbay card next Tuesday now have no ground for saying that Kruvosky will not be just as good if not a better opponent for McAllister.

Jimmy Dundee, who meets Harry Pelsinger Tuesday night on the east bay card, lost the decision to Charlie Moy, but Moy hardly had enough of an edge to justify Referee Eddie Hanlon in giving the decision the way he did in a benefit show. A draw would have been better. Harry Pelsinger showed a lot of improvement, probably as a result of having been working as Benny Leonard's sparring partner for the last week. Pelsinger had no trouble in outpointing Joe King Leopold.

It was a great show and well handled. Upwards of 10,000 people turned out to crowd the Civic Auditorium and the crowd was handled well and the card staged without a hitch. Now let's see if the east bay boys can do as well in staging their big show at the Oakland Auditorium next Tuesday night.

Here are the results of last night's boxing matches:

Benny Leonard outpointed Johnny McCarthy, no decision, four rounds (Eddie Graney, referee.)

Willie Ritchie, decision over Frankie Jones, four rounds. (Jack Welsh, referee.)

K. O. Kruvosky, decision over Willie Meehan, four rounds. (Jim. Griffin, referee.)

"Spud" Murphy stopped Mickey Gorman in the third round. (Ben Selig, referee.)

Harry Pelsinger, decision over King Leopold, four rounds. (Tiv Kreling, referee.)

Spider Roche, decision over Willie Hoppe, four rounds. (Eddie Hanlon, referee.)

Salinas Jack Robinson and Billy Nell boxed a draw. (Toby Irwin, referee.)

Jimmy Dundee and Charley Moy boxed a draw. (Eddie Hanlon, referee.)

Kid Booker, decision over Eddie Muse, four rounds. (Toby Irwin, referee.)

Oaks and Seals Brace Up And Coast Pennant Chase Begins to Look Tighter

Four and a Half Games From Top to Bottom and Any Club Can Be Anywhere in Week

By Carl E. Brazier

Del Howard's Oaks may come home in the first division next week for their two weeks' stay on the bay lots against the Seals and Tigers. But they may find the Seals a far tougher proposition than they found them the opening week of the season when five out of seven games went to the Oaks. For while the Oaks are taking a brace against the Sacramento Coyotes this week on the Sacramento lot, the Seals are coming to life and showing the kind of stuff that promises to tighten up the old pennant race to the stage where a fast dying baseball interest may again be nursed back to life. Wins for the Seals and Oaks yesterday pulled the league-leading Bees a bit closer to the field and put the Oaks back in fourth place within respectable reaching distance of the top of the heap.

The Seals had to work hard for their 4 to 2 win over Salt Lake that evened up the series at two games each and most of the credit belongs to young Lefty O'Doul, who pitched a great game and improved as the game went along, while Rube Evans showed a tendency to weaken along towards the end. The Oaks also had to fight for their win, but they only had to fight for eight innings in which time Hack Miller's home run with a man on the paths ahead of him gave Bill Prough the lead that kept him right. But the ninth inning finish, in which the Oaks put over eight runs on five hits, four walks and an error, took all the edge off the game and spoiled the real battle that had been staged for eight innings.

There are now only four and a half games between the first place Bees and the Seals in the cellar and the Coast League race is again beginning to look like a race instead of a procession. Another week may find any one of the clubs in first place and any one of the clubs in the basement—that is another week may do that as far as possibilities are concerned. As far as probabilities are concerned, the Bees and Angels still look like the class of the league and look like the clubs that figure to be setting the pace before many days; also the Bees look due to fall out of the running as soon as Chapelle, Leverenz, Penner and Siglin leave to join Duffy Lewis and his bunch of ball players who are congregating from all parts of the country at the Mare Island Naval training station.

O'DOUL IN GOOD SHAPE.

Lefty O'Doul was in great form and allowed the Bees only five hits. A couple of his walks were about the only reasons that he did not blank the Salt Lake league leaders. One of those walks was followed by Sheeley's single and a double by Sands to put over one run in the second frame. Another walk came in the third after a double by Siglin and kept the inning open so that Siglin could score while Chapelle was forcing Orr at second, a try for a double play missing only by a few feet.

The Seals gave O'Doul perfect support and outside of those second and third innings, the Bees had only three men on the bases. Ryan doubled and Orr walked to start the sixth and it looked bad for O'Doul. But Koerner came in on the run to make a great catch of Chapelle's pop fly on an effort to bunt and Ryan was doubled up off second. Sheely was a strikeout victim to end the inning. The only other Bee to reach first after the third inning was Konnick with a single in the seventh. O'Doul settled down and fanned Evans and Farmer to finish the inning.

ONLY ERROR COSTS RUN.

Rube Evans in the meantime was not faring quite as well. The Seals touched him up for eight hits with Hunter, Corhan and Brooks doing the hitting that chased in runs. The only error of the game, which was charged to Sheely, cost a run and gave the Seals a start to tie the score after the Bees had put over one in the second frame. Downs had singled and had moved up to third on two infield outs. Corhan rapped one to Orr, whose throw to first was a bit high and wide. Sheely's only chance was a one-handed catch and he failed to hold the ball. The error was charged to him, and Orr escaped without penalty for his somewhat questionable throw. Downs scored on the play and the score was tied at one all.

The Bees went out in front with one run in the third and the Seals tied it up again, scoring when Polly Henry walked and scored all the way from first on Hunter's double to left center. Henry had gone into the game in the second inning after Charley Pick earned an afternoon off by taking a bit too much to Umpire Ed Finney about his decisions on balls and strikes.

SEALS HIT IN PINCHES.

A walk and singles by Brooks and Corhan filled the bases with Seals, with one out in the fourth. But Goldie was thrown out at the plate on O'Doul's grounder to Orr, and Sands took care of Maggert's grounder for a forceout at third to end the inning. Downs started it again in the sixth with a single to left. Brooks' infield out moved him up to second and Corhan's double that skidded through Sands chased home the run that put the Seals out ahead.

Two walks and a sacrifice put the Seals on second and third with one out in the eighth. The squeeze play failed when Brooks missed connections with the ball and Koerner was nailed at the plate. Brooks followed it up with a double to the right field boards that chased Downs across the plate and left the score 4 to 2 when Corhan fouled out to Konnick to leave Brooks on second.

OAKS IN FOURTH PLACE.

Hack Miller was enough to win the ball game at Sacramento for the Oaks yesterday when he cracked one of Brenton's offerings for a circuit shot over that short right field fence in the fourth inning. Middleton had singled just ahead of Miller's home run and the two runs put the Oaks out ahead of the one run that the Coyotes had put over in the second frame. It took four hits to put over that one Sacramento run, some great fielding work by the Oak infield cutting down hits to one base. After that second frame, Prough tightened and allowed only three hits. He issued only two walks, and after the second inning he was never in danger.

But the Oaks refused to let the day go by and have the game look like a tight battle and in the ninth they staged the biggest inning that the Sacramento fans have seen this year. Eight runs were the total of their exertions—there were five hits, a few stolen bases, four walks and one error to account for the finishing touches that the Oaks put on the game to take the lead in the week's series, two games to one. With one game postponed this week and with only one game played in Sacramento on Sunday, there will be only five games for the Oaks and Coyotes in the current series.

ANGELS WIN GIFT GAME.

Wade Killefer's Angels regained one of the games which Vernon had taken as a lead for second place, but an error was all that gave the Angels their win. Only one run was scored and that started on a walk, Killefer drawing a free pass, stealing second, and scoring when Mitchell kicked Terry's easy grounder. Quinn and Fittery hooked up in a great battle, Quinn allowing five hits, walking one and fanning four. Fittery was touched for six hits, walked four and fanned four.

Art Griggs will probably be out of the game for a few days and Cy Forsythe will be the Sacramento first sacker. Griggs and Easterly collided in yesterday's game and Griggs was badly cut.

Elmer Leifer Is Out of Game for Month by Injury

Elmer Leifer, Oak outfielder, is the latest member of Del Howard's hospital list. Leifer has been sent to the Fabiola Hospital by the Oakland club, where he is under treatment by Dr. H. J. Lackey for an injury to his ankle received in last Tuesday's game at Sacramento. An X-ray has shown a slight fracture of a small bone that will probably keep Leifer out of the game for more than a month. In the meantime Hawks, Middleton and Miller will make up the Oaks outfield with Pop Arlett and Harry Krause as the utility outfielders in case of emergency.

Tomorrow morning the Salt Lake Bees make their last appearance on the Oakland lot for more than a month. The Bees and Seals play the sixth game of their series at Emeryville at 10:30 o'clock. By the time the Bees come back again they may not look like such a good ball club, for Leverenz, Dubuc, Siglin and Chapelle will probably have joined the navy by that time.

Next week the Oaks and Seals are the clubs to play on the bay lots.

Jerry Lawlor Is Manager Of Central League Squad

Weak Club Will Be Reorganized; Jeff Woods Resigns as Umpire; Fast Games Tomorrow

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Jerry Lawlor, president of the Central California league, has tendered his resignation as head of the organization in order that he may take over the management of the Oakland Commission Merchant team. Last night at Spalding's fan room was the regular meeting of the managers and directors of the Central California league and when Lawlor offered to resign as head of the league it was no surprise, as it had already been known that the president had been asked to manage the Commission Merchants team. But Lawlor did not resign last night, and he will remain as head of the league until next Friday at least, and in the meantime he has been granted permission by the other managers who were at the meeting to act as manager for the Commission Merchants.

The rules of the league provide that the president of the league can not be connected with any club. But those rules will probably be altered to allow Lawlor to hold the position as president of the league and at the same time manage the Oakland Commission Merchants. The managers who were present at last night's meeting were strongly in favor of Lawlor being allowed to hold both positions, as they feel that Lawlor is the man who should be at the head of the Central California league, after the way that he acted as head of other leagues.

Lawlor said that he felt that he was acting for the good of the league in taking over the management of the Oakland Commission Merchants, which last Sunday appeared to be the weak member of the league and was in need of one man at the head of it instead of two or three. The absence of Rod Murphy of the Marines and Tom Cahalan of Crockett was the cause of a vote not being taken to allow Lawlor to act in both positions. Every manager felt that Lawlor could handle the two jobs without showing any favoritism to the Oakland Commission Merchants, and if it should come to a case where Lawlor's decision would have anything to do with the Commission Merchants, it would be left up to Vice-President Richard Greathouse.

Jerry has always proved himself to be a hard worker in any league that he has headed, and the managers of the teams in the Central California league will hardly allow him to resign his position at next Friday night's meeting, and will vote that he be allowed to hold both positions. Jerry said himself that he wanted to live up to the laws of the league by resigning his position as president of the league, to handle the Oakland Commission Merchants, but if the managers feel that they wanted him to handle both jobs, he would be glad to do so.

BRICK DEVEREAUX UMPIRE.

Nothing of any other importance came up at the meeting except the resignation as umpire by Jeff Woods. Woods, who was always rated among the few high class umpires working in the semi-pro business, spends six days out of the week at the Mare Island navy yard, and feels that he would rather have Sundays to himself. Jeff has bought an automobile and intends to see some of the country on Sundays. The league lost a good umpire in Woods, who is a Vallejo man, but has always been recognized as the official umpire for the Richmond Elks' team.

In the place of Woods, the league elected William (Brick) Devereaux, the old-time ball player. Bill will umpire the game at Vallejo Sunday between the Marines and Oakland Commission Merchants.

LINEUPS ARE CHANGED.

Jerry Lawlor's first act as manager of the Commission Merchants was to announce a revised lineup for his squad for the game with the Marines tomorrow. Charley Pruiett and McFarlan will be his pitchers; Richards will catch; John Healey will play first base; Truck Pessano, second; Quercolla, third; Fox, short; Schreiber, Reynolds and Beeson, outfielders.

Tom Cahalan's Crockett club is the only other club in the league which will be given any general shakeup. Crockett has lost Polly Henry, who has gone to the Seals. Torkelson and Lawson will be the pitchers; O'Hair, catcher; Sears, first base; Scanlon, second; Horgan, third; Rumann, short; Jacobs, Freitas and Waymair, outfielders.

This is the lineup that will go up against Otto Deitrich's Richmond Elks who will have their usual lineup of Hollis and McDonough, battery; Autrey, Freine, Menges and Heister, infielders; Ward, Pfyl and Maas, outfielders.

PLENTY OF GOOD GAMES.

Which game are you going to take in tomorrow? That is a question which many of the followers of the semi-pro fans will ask one another today or tonight. At last the semi-pro teams have reached the mark where they belong—all getting together in leagues, and causing the fans to realize that they are the ones who soon will be the biggest interest in baseball, at least as far as the fans in and about the east bay cities are concerned. It took the fans some time to get into their minds that the bushers are the ones that put up the real ball games, but now that they have learned, those fans are prepared to eat up all the semi-pro baseball news they can run their eyes over. A few seasons ago the fans would pass up any print about the bushers, but now it seems to be the first news about baseball that they look for. And these same fans are also looking for the best games to take in on the semi-pro lots each Sunday, and each Sunday their choice seems to be getting harder.

Tomorrow four leagues will keep nearly every ball player around the bay cities busy, and those boys that will not be playing league ball will be only those that are hardly out of their "teens." The fourth league will keep the fans baseball mad this summer, will get on its way tomorrow, it being the Mission League of six clubs—the Melrose Merchants, San Leandro, Newark, Alameda, Fruitvale and San Jose Bears. The other three leagues which will be busy tomorrow, will be the Central California, Shipbuilders' and San Francisco-Marin Counties leagues. The Mission League will put on games at Lincoln Park in Alameda, San Leandro and at San Jose. The Melrose Merchants will travel to San Jose, the Fruitvale club will play Alameda at Lincoln Park, and the Wedgewoods of Newark will travel to San Leandro to meet the C. L. Best tractor team of that place.

BIG CROWD AT SAN JOSE.

Doc Moskiman, made a trip to San Jose yesterday to see that all is in readiness for the league opening at that town, and Doc returned with the news that the fans of San Jose are showing that they will give their support to the new league, and that manager G. C. Bradford of the San Jose Bears expects to have at least 2000 paid admissions at the game. The game at San Leandro between the C. L. Best Tractors and the Wedgewoods of Newark should draw out a big crowd, while over at Alameda Fred Krumb is looking for the fans to turn out strong.

The Melrose Merchants will travel to San Jose by automobile, and will start out from Jerry Lawlor's place about 9 o'clock. Some of the players will be picked up in front of the Melrose Central hall about 9:30 o'clock. Manager Joe Britos has requested that players be at either of the two places in time to go along.

SHIPYARD GAMES HERE.

Both games in the Shipbuilders' League will be played on this side of the bay, and will be the games which will furnish the day's baseball entertainment for the local fans. Emeryville ground at Fortieth and San Pablo will be the battlefield for the Hanlon-San Francisco Union Iron game, and those teams promise to put up a hard-fought game that is likely to be an old time slugging match, as the San Francisco club has shown a big improvement in its willow wielding work, and those boys on the Hanlon team need no introduction to the pitchers to let them know that they are terrors with the stick.

At Fruitvale Recreation Park the Moore shipyard nine will mix with the Alameda Union Iron Works, and although the Alameda club has won only one of its four starts, there is a belief that they are going to make more trouble than the Moore team will expect. The game which Alameda played against the Hanlons last Sunday speaks well for the way that the team has improved over its first couple of games. Birbeck or Francis will be in the box to oppose Artie Benham, the Moore southpaw.

The Central California League will also put on three games that will cause a big lot of interest to be shown by the baseball fans in nearly every city around the bay. Games will be played at Richmond, Pittsburg and Vallejo, the one at the last named town being the first one of the season to be played there.

Plans for the opening game of the Central California League in Vallejo have rapidly taken shape and it is expected that a record-breaking crowd will be on hand when the Marines and the Oakland Commission Merchants take the field. First Lieutenant J. Darlington, athletic officer at the barracks, has secured Captain C. C. Riner, aide to Colonel Lincoln Karmany, to pitch the first ball, and Mayor Roney will be stationed behind the log to act as catcher. The marine band will render selections and vocalists will be on hand to sing patriotic songs during the game.

Captain Rod Murphy is undecided as to who will do the heaving for the Marines, but it is likely that either Larkin or Tuffin will be sent to the mound. However, as big Jess Barnes is working in great shape he may get the honor of twirling the opening contest.

The grounds have been placed in the best of shape for the game and baseball is expected to come back with a rush. The proceeds of the opening day are to be donated to the Red Cross.

Fulton Claims Title if Bout Is Called Off

Heavyweight Fight Promoter Admits Public Sentiment Against Staging Battle.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Public sentiment against the fight proved too strong and today the proposed Willard-Fulton championship bout scheduled for July 4 is called off. It was called off by Colonel J. C. Miller himself, the man who first suggested the bout and who has been the strongest factor in it.

He admitted public sentiment was too strong against it as a result of the war, and decided it was best to call it off. He said he was not prompted by any desire to make money when he tried to put on the fight.

Willard said he is ready to abide by Colonel Miller's decision and that he will be ready to fight any time in the public interests there should be a championship battle.

PORTLAND, May 11.—Fred Fulton, who is here today on his vaudeville tour, declared that if his match with Jess Willard is not staged by Colonel Miller he will claim the heavyweight championship of the world and collect the $10,000 in forfeit money put up by Willard on the July 4 match.

"Miller's action in calling off the fight looks to me to be nothing but a run-around [illegible] don't think Willard ever intended to fight me or ever will fight me for the title. My manager, Mike Collins, and I have been trying to get a championship match with Willard for two years, and I have fought and defeated every heavyweight in the world of any prominence."

Vean Gregg Loses in Eleventh Inning to the White Sox

By staging a two-run rally in the eighth inning, and taking the lead 3 to 2, only to have it tied up in the ninth by Philadelphia, the Chicago White Sox battled the Athletics until the eleventh, when they bunched enough hits off Vean Gregg to score two runs and win 5 to 3. Gregg pitched great ball except in those couple of innings, when the White Sox bunched hits for two runs in each. Risberg, McMullin and Weaver each got a hit and scored a run for the White Sox. Harry Hooper failed to get a hit when Boston defeated St. Louis 4 to 1, but he scored a run and laid down a sacrifice. Gedeon went hitless for St. Louis. Detroit defeated New York 5 to 3, and to help in the work Cesar Vitt got a double and single, while Harry Heilman got a triple. "Pep" Young, with the same club, got a couple of singles. Peckinpaugh, Rodie and Hanna each got a single for New York, but Peckinpaugh was charged with the only error of the game.

In the National League, only one game was played in which any Coast leaguers took part. That was the one in which Pittsburg defeated the Giants 4 to 2. Schmidt and Cutshaw were the players, and they failed to get any hits.

Vigor Again Shown in Stocks

Liberty 4¼s Decline Further

NEW YORK, May 11.—Trading in stocks today continued in large volume with vigorous upward movement in equipments and numerous specialties, including oils, sugars, tobaccos, Marine preferred, Distillers and lesser issues at extreme gains of one to three points.

The new Liberty 4¼ per cent bonds sold down to a new low record of 98.20 today, the second day of the trading in them on the Stock Exchange here. The transactions were comparatively small ones. The opening was 98.40, but the price broke to 98.36 almost immediately and soon afterward to 98.30. Later a block of $309,000 of the bonds sold at 98.24. At the close of trading at noon 98.20 was quoted. Liberty 3½s sold at 98.82 to 99, first 4s at 95.64 to 95.82 and second 4s at 95.68 to 95.76.

Specialties featured the strong opening and early trading, the usual leaders recording only nominal changes. Distillers was exceptionally active, advancing three points in the first half hour. Other prominent issues included Industrial Alcohol, Mexican Petroleum, Associated Oil, American Linseed, American Sugar and Marine preferred at gains of one to two points. Sumatra Tobacco's break of 3½ points was the only noteworthy decline.

United States Steel was variable throughout the morning, recovering the greater part of yesterday's moderate reversal, then reacting, but strengthening again in the later dealings. Rails and coppers were heavy later in the session, causing some reduction of general gains at the end. The closing was strong.

The movement of prices at various periods of today's trading is indicated in greater detail in the following:

OPENING—Trading continued in large volume at the opening, but the market tone was mixed and price movements irregular. The most interest was attached to Distillers' Securities, which moved up three points to 60¼. Steel common sold up ⅝ to 108⅞, but the other steel industrials were comparatively quiet and showed some fractional changes. Mexican Petroleum moved up one point to 97¾. American Linseed showed a gain of over one point at 35½. The Liberty 4¼s continued weak, selling down to 98.36; the 4s sold at 95.82 and the 3½s at 99.

CLOSING—The market closed strong. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong. Price movements were strong during final trading, although some railroad stocks were in supply. Liberty bonds were heavy, the 4¼s selling down to 98.20. Sales today 480,300 shares; bonds, $3,836,000. Sales for the week, 5,135,800 shares; bonds, $31,780,000.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, May 11.—Expectation that planting would be in full swing next week sent the corn market sharply downward today. Opening quotation, which ranged from ¼@¾c lower, with May $1.27½ and July $1.44½@1.44¾, were followed by a slight reaction, but then by a pronounced setback.

Later the fact that receipts were considerably larger than during the corresponding time last year evoked bearish comment. Prices closed unsettled, 2⅛c net lower to ½c advance, with May $1.27⅝ and July $1.43⅛@1.43¼.

Oats, like corn, showed decided weakness. After opening ⅜c to 1½c down, with July 65¾@66c, prices continued to recede.

Downturns in the value of hogs caused provisions to drop.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, market nominal; No. 3 yellow, $1.58@1.60; No. 4 yellow, $1.40@1.50.

Rye—No. 2, $2. Barley, $1.30@1.50. Timothy, $5@8. Clover, $18@28.

The close:

Corn—May, $1.27⅝; July, $1.43¼.
Oats—May, 72¾c; July, 65c.
Pork—May, $44.70; July, $45.15.
Lard—July, $25.27; September, $25.60.

THREE RAILROAD CHIEFS REMOVED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—Director General of Railroads William A. McAdoo has issued an order dispensing with the positions occupied by Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific Company; E. P. Ripley, head of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, and Alvin Krech, head of the Western Pacific Railway.

The triple elimination results in a saving in annual salaries of $215,000. Ripley, who was the highest salaried railroad head in the world, received $100,000 a year, or $25,000 a year in excess of the compensation of the President of the United States. The order striking the three railroad heads from their lucrative positions was verified by President Max Thelan of the State Railroad Commission, who declared that the action was the result of government policy to consolidate railroad positions in the interests of economy.

Eastern railroads have made up differences between government salary schedules and former company schedules in the cases where their official heads have been disrated, or salary reductions instituted through stockholders' action. This procedure may follow with the three roads named.

St. Mary's College Decision Not Made

Plans of the Christian Brothers for the rebuilding of St. Mary's College or for the removal of the college to another location have not yet taken shape, according to Brother Gregory, president of the college. Brother Gregory stated that there had been rumors that a decision had been reached in the matter.

"Rumors that a decision has been reached relative to the sale of the present site of St. Mary's College and to the plans of the Christian Brothers for next year are without foundation," Brother Gregory said. "We have not yet reached a definite decision as to the future of the institution, and wish our friends to know that this is the case."

BOYS ADMIT AUTO THEFT; KILLED LAD

Four 16-year-old school boys are confined to the Detention Home awaiting appearance in the Juvenile Court to answer for the death of 9-year-old Angelo Ungaretti, whom they confessed last night to the police to having run over in a stolen automobile as the boy was playing in front of his home at 1393 Eighteenth street last Monday afternoon.

The boys under arrest and who have made statements to Inspectors Lou Agnew and William Smith are: Keith Watson, 3250 Lynde avenue; Robert Barth, 5344 Lawton avenue; Arthur Harrington, 5336 Lawton avenue and James Lund, Peralta apartments, Thirteenth and Jackson streets.

According to Captain of Inspectors Harry E. Green, the Watson boy has made a complete statement which involves the other three. Lund was a student at the Cole school while the others attended Technical high school.

In their statements the boys admit the theft of an auto from H. H. Gibson last Sunday. This was the car that ran over the Ungaretti boy Monday evening after the four had returned to Oakland from a trip to San Jose and Santa Cruz. Near San Jose they took from an auto belonging to R. J. Driscoll of Irvington a number plate which they carried on the stolen car.

The boys were arrested by Inspectors Agnew and Smith upon information reaching the police from different sources. Constable Frank Rose Thursday caused the arrest of Harrington and Watson on suspicion of having beaten and robbed E. P. Wiggins near Niles on Wednesday night.

The boys were taken to the Detention Home for further investigation and were later implicated in the Ungaretti case by Inspectors Agnew and Smith who had been working on the case for several days.

Watson admitted driving the auto at the time they ran over the Ungaretti boy. Following the killing the four drove to Seventeenth and Peralta street, where they abandoned the auto. They then ran south to Eighth street where they boarded a street car and transferred to the College avenue line, leaving the car in the vicinity of the Technical high school. Then all returned to their homes, agreeing that they would not mention the incident to anyone. At that time, they said, they did not know that their victim had died almost instantly after the tragedy.

Pastor Is Cleared of Espionage Charge

Two witnesses for the government, Robert J. Drake, 387 Ninth street, Oakland and Arthur Ramsey, 2717 Hearst avenue, Berkeley, testified that Epps had said any one who purchased Liberty Bonds was contributing to murder, refused to place an American flag over the mission until forcibly compelled and designated President Wilson as a figurehead. Epps was the only witness in his own behalf, and denied the charges.

CITY MANAGER FACES WARRANT FOR ARREST

TRIBUNE BUREAU
1484 PARK ST.

SAN JOSE, May 11.—A bench warrant for City Manager Thomas H. Reed has been issued by Police Judge Thomas R. Dougherty as a result of the failure of Reed to appear as a witness in the police court yesterday. The city manager is ordered to appear at 2 o'clock Monday and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court for disobeying a subpoena issued by the court.

Reed had been subpoenaed as a witness in the case of Mrs. Josephine Bell, member of the military police, who had been charged by L. B. Klein, a local detective, with operating as a private detective in San Jose without first obtaining a license and depositing a bond of $2000.

The courtroom was well filled with spectators when the case was called, including many prominent army officers from Camp Fremont. District Attorney A. M. Free and Major Grier of Fremont represented Mrs. Bell.

Before the actual taking of testimony started District Attorney A. M. Free moved for the dismissal of the case.

This was opposed by Klein, and the case was postponed until Friday, when the court will rule on the motion.

ALAMEDA, May 11.—Before the Rev. C. L. Miel, Episcopal church clergyman of this city, went into service as a war chaplain, he was active in this city in all war relief activities. He so imbued his household with war relief spirit that even the poultry in the Miel backyard is qualifying as a relief organization. Yesterday Mrs. Miel noticed an unusual commotion in the nest of a motherly hen which recently hatched a brood of chicks.

The mother hen seemed greatly disturbed. Investigation showed that two newly-born kittens were stowed away in the nest with the baby chicks and the mother hen was attempting to brood both kits and chickens. The kittens were hungry and were greatly puzzling their foster mother by their unsuccessful but persistent efforts to find the proper sort of food for young kittens.

APPLES SCARCER; WILL GO HIGHER

The rise in apples, due to the shortness of the present supply in the commission market, will probably be followed by a new rise next week, according to reports received from large distributors. This will apply on the next shipment to Oakland, expected Wednesday or Thursday. Apples will be far above normal in price and extremely scarce at any price before the new crop stabilizes conditions, according to Charles Goward, apple operator. The local shortness has been intensified through the condemnation by D. R. T. Macdonald, local fruit inspector, of half of a consignment of winesaps. Macdonald ordered these repacked, with the result that half the fruit, found to be spoiled, was discarded.

Today saw the cannery men active in the pea market again, buying up all peas left after the day's trading at a "clean-up" price of 2½ cents.

New crop eggplant and hothouse and southern cucumbers arrived. Strawberries moved strongly, the supply being a shade less. oPtatoes moved at a fair rate, with firm prices.

NEW CHARGE MAY FACE MESSIER

According to advices received here today, Henry J. Messier, paralytic and confessed slayer of Roy Mettler, the young chauffeur murdered near Lobec, Los Angeles county, who was captured by Sheriff Frank Parnet and deputies in San Francisco a few hours after his alleged crime, may be a double murderer.

The Los Angeles authorities today went to work on the theory that Messier was the mysterious man who shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Edith Light with a revolver in a North Broadway lodging-house the day Messier left the southern city. The Light woman died at the county hospital a few hours after the shooting. A man answering Messier's description was seen running from the lodging-house a few seconds after the fatal shot was heard.

Messier is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles today, in custody of Deputy Sheriff Steve Strong. Following his arrest in the bay district, which was accomplished through his sale of the automobile of the murdered chauffeur to a local dealer, he was incarcerated in the Alameda county jail and the Los Angeles authorities notified of his arrest.
